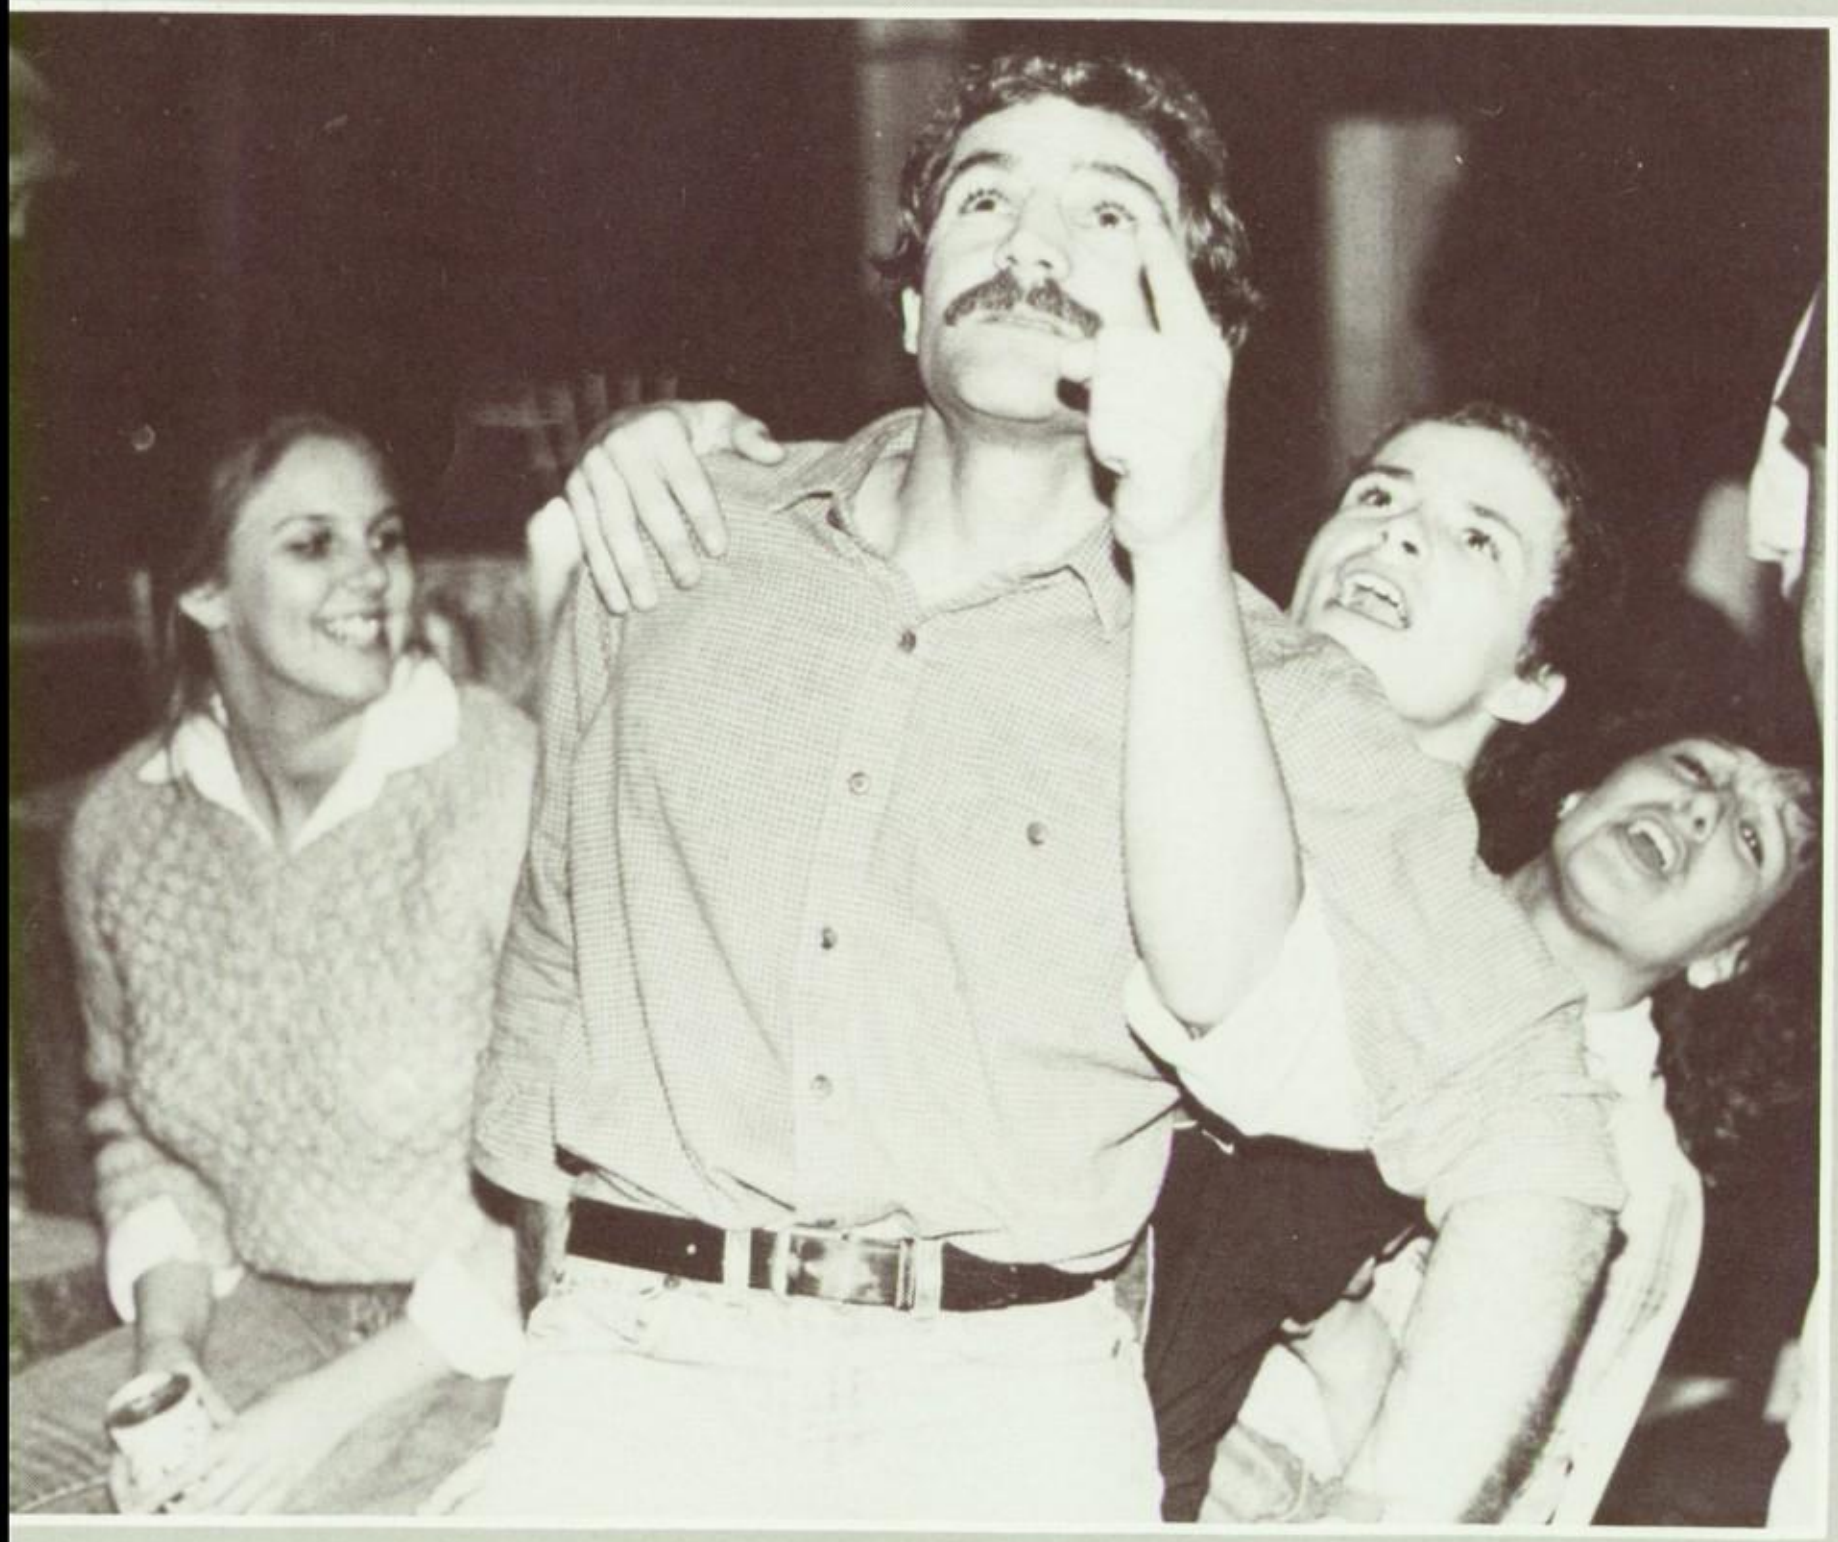
A Self-Evaluation

each year of high school
seems to reflect a lifetime;



we soon find ourselves evaluating which "lifetime" was the best.

so too,
do we evaluate the person we are,

and try to find the true being that lies within each of us.

A First for Bourgade

Bourgade had its first walk-a-thon on Oct. 13th. The goal was to raise $20,000. We didn't quite make it but after all the pledges were collected we made $17,000. There were three prizes given out; a color T.V., a walkman radio and a portable stereo. The winners of these prizes were Dave Karrick, Jim Moses, and Kelly Hayes.

This walk-a-thon was the only fund raiser for the year. It was to get money for extracurricular activites. It also celebrated our 20th Anniversary of the opening of our doors.

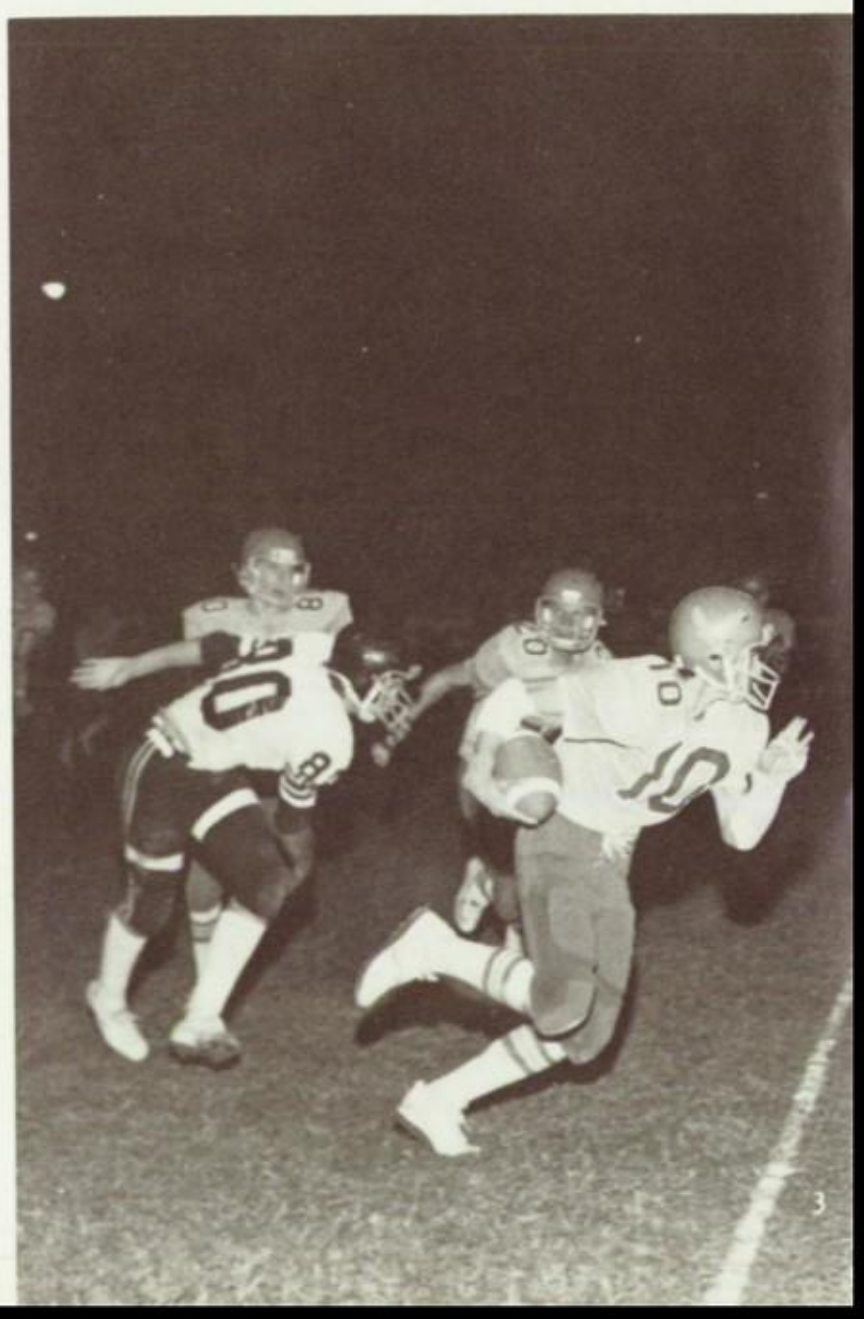
1) Carla DiGiovine pins a boutonniere on Mick Hardin prior to halftime festivities. Mick is one of the class representatives who presented the candidates with their flowers and sashes. 2) Best of the West: dancing in the gym. 3) Mark Hobaica pulls through on another successful play. 4) The mascot (Kim Scaccia) pledges, and prepares herself for the fight ahead. 5) Allison Dishmon, DeeDee Concholar, and Jeanne Bauer get into the Best of the West spirit . . . on horseback!



Homecoming at Bourgade: Best of the West!

Bourgade's twentieth homecoming game took place on Friday, October twenty-second; the dance was held Saturday the twenty-third. This year's theme was "The Best of the West." The game was played against Apache Junction, but unfortunately, the Golden Eagles weren't quick enough to capture the Prospectors before the clock ran out. The final score was 13-7.

During the half time procession, the floats were paraded around the track and the winners were announced. The award for most original float was split between the Senior class and N.A.C.I. while the Junior class carried off the prize for overall best float. This year's King and Queen were crowned - Vince Ramella and Wendy Davies. Another surprising effect that night was the horses that led the float procession; something that was never attempted before.

The following night, the dance was held in the gym which was decorated appropriately in the western theme. The many couples rocked to the sounds of their favorite songs, played by a live band - Presence.

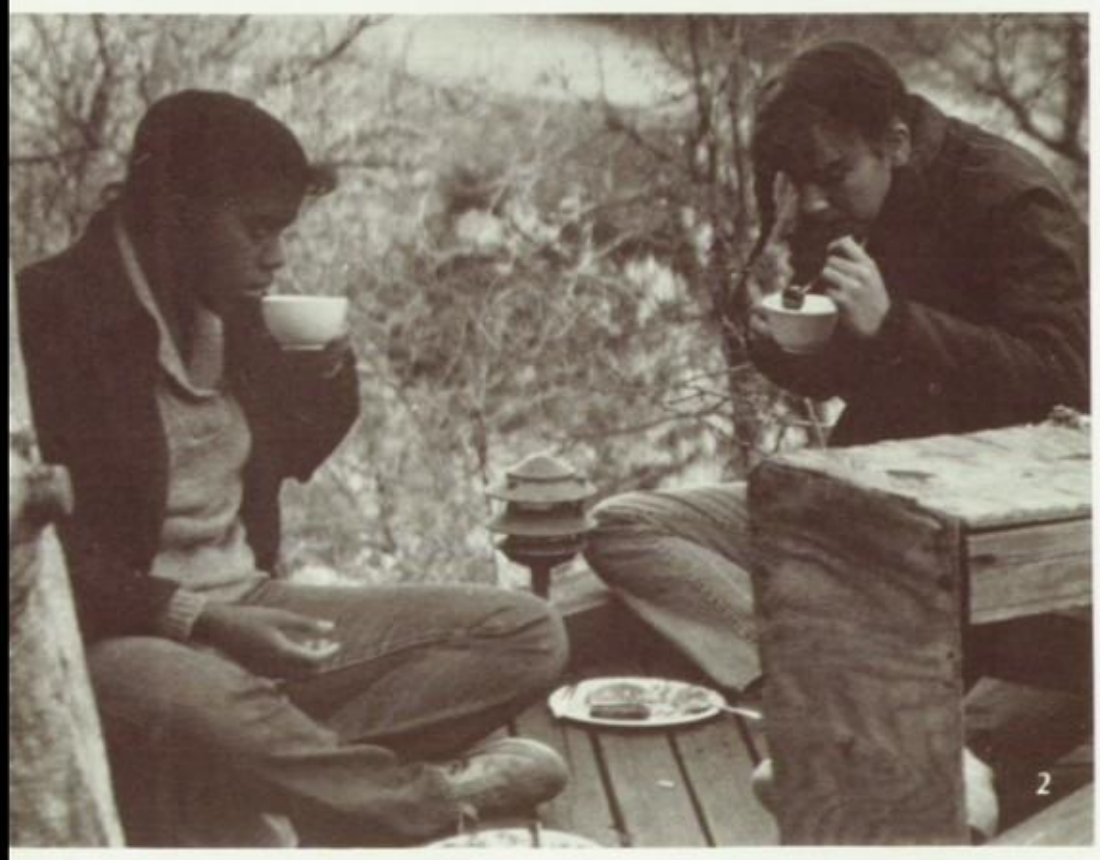
Approval displayed by laughter of audience

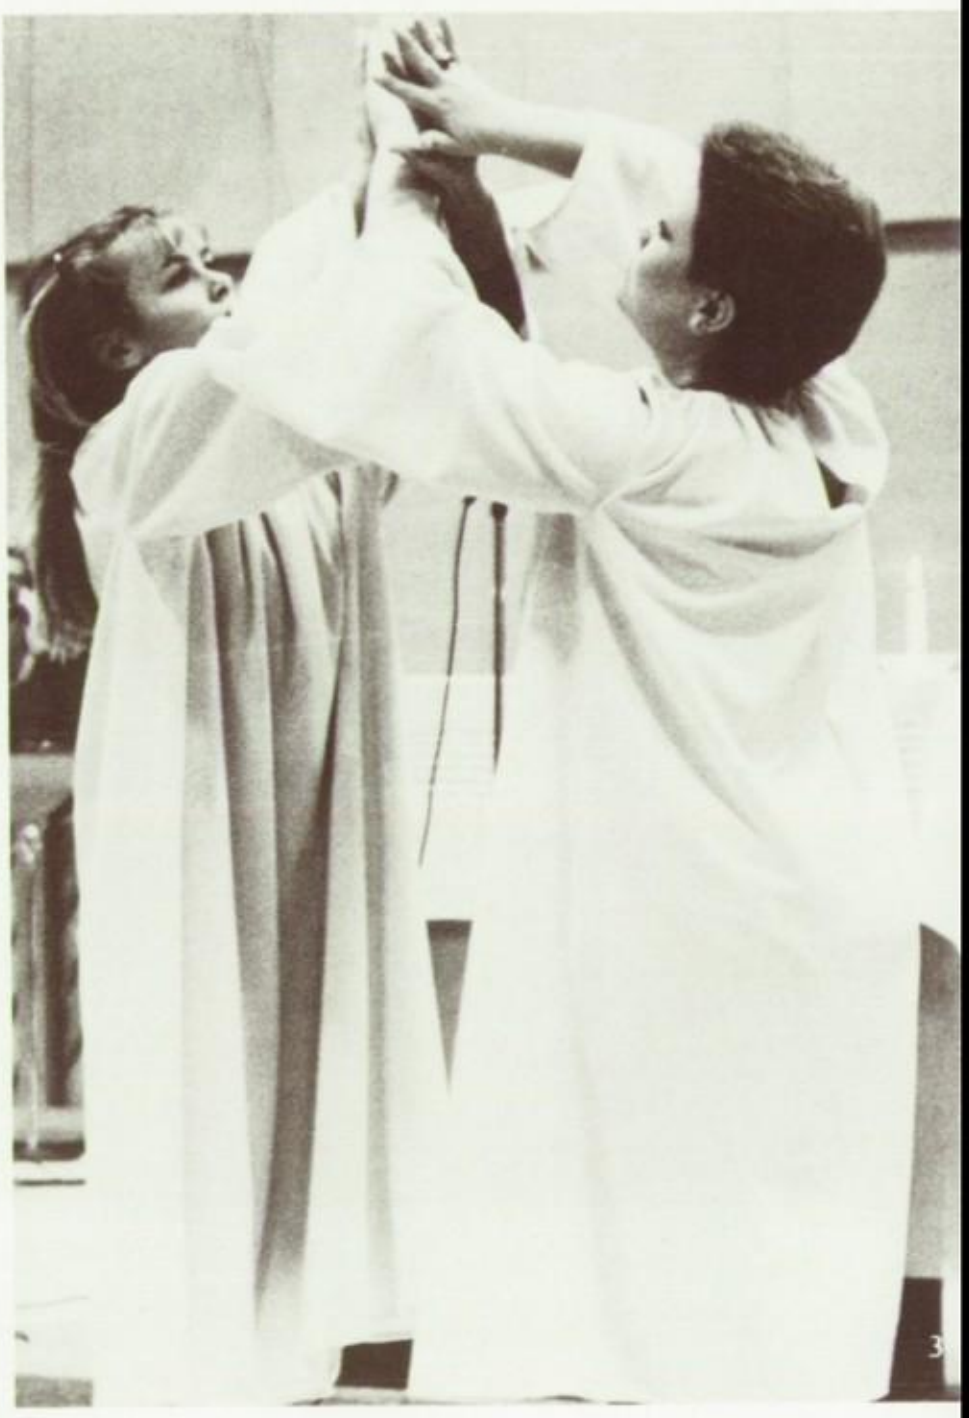
Winterfest, under the direction of Mr. David Lizotte, was based on the theme "Anything Goes," which was held on November 18th, 19th, 20th, and the 21st. There was a great variety of skits, songs, and dances, which made for an entertaining four nights.

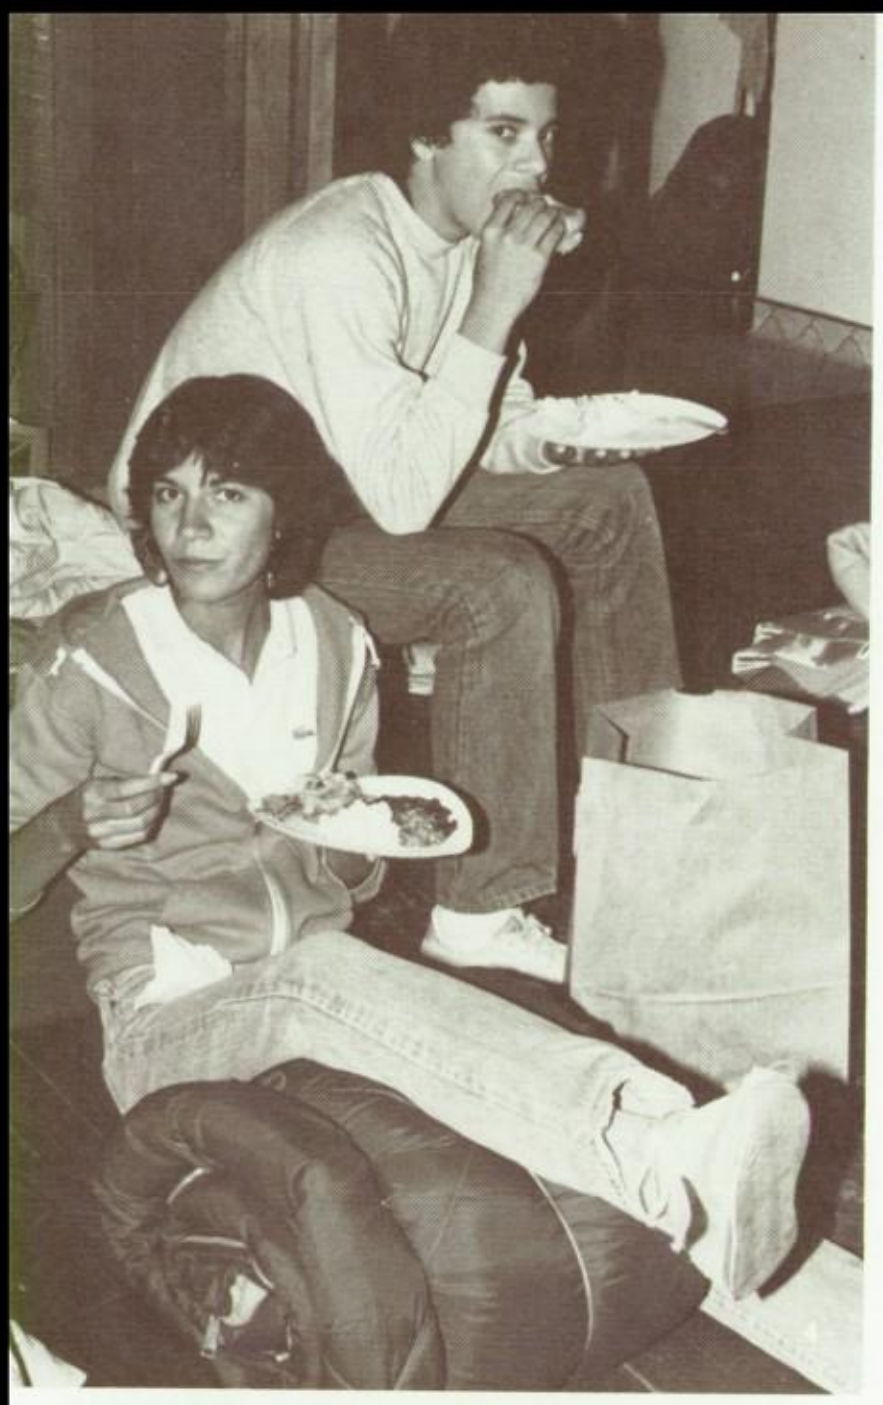
The show ran smoothly, except for several minor changes due to the failure of spotlights, and a couple of hecklers who participated the first night. The audience was generally pleased with the performance, and the laughter of the audience displayed their approval.

Some of the exceptional acts included an imitation of Barbra Wawa, which was performed by Sara Shiles. Her guests included Brooke Shields (Jackie DesBiens), Mr. Rogers (Bill Scully), Sly Stallone (Mr. Contento) and Moon-Unit-Zappa (Carla DiGiovine). Kim Spano, Gayle Gleghorn, Jackie DesBiens, Mary Flynn, Jamie Potts and Barbra Strietz also participated in performing dances and duets.

Unity results from spiritual life







(1) Cindy Trejo, Kris Rathke, Wendy Davies, and Cindy Comon spend their morning exalting in the Lord, with song. (2) Felicia Concholar and Mary Krekler enjoy a relaxed atmosphere while eating breakfast at the senior retreat. (3) Kathy McGovern and Sara Shiles portray their interpretation of forgiveness, in a liturgical dance at a Lenten service. (4) Carla Gilbert and Joe Chavez take a break for a quick snack, after an involving discussion. (5) At the sophomore retreat, Steve Jorgenson, Hans Schacke, and Kim Mar warm up before the Mass. (6) Debbie Yatarola, Joanne Reed, Vince Ramella, Brenda Angerer, and Kelli Howard embrace after they have passed the light from the unity candle. (7) The Most Rev. Bishop O'Brien gives his blessing upon exiting the celebration.

(1) Over lunch, Chris Taylor, Mike Collins, Eugene Cavallo, Malou Bowers, and Lisa Badowich discuss the controversial issue, the drinking age. (2) With careful concentration, Tom Kendzia performs during a first Friday mass. (3) Deacon Joe Lessard introduces several guest speakers from John XXIII, School of Faith. (4) The seniors represent their unity with the candle, the meaning of God in their lives with the Bible, and their growth and maturity with the plant. (5) Fr. Conditt and Fr. Tepsic relate a concerned glance, after hearing a student's testimony at the sophomore retreat. (6) Fr. Bill Seetch counsels Kris Rathke with one of her problems.

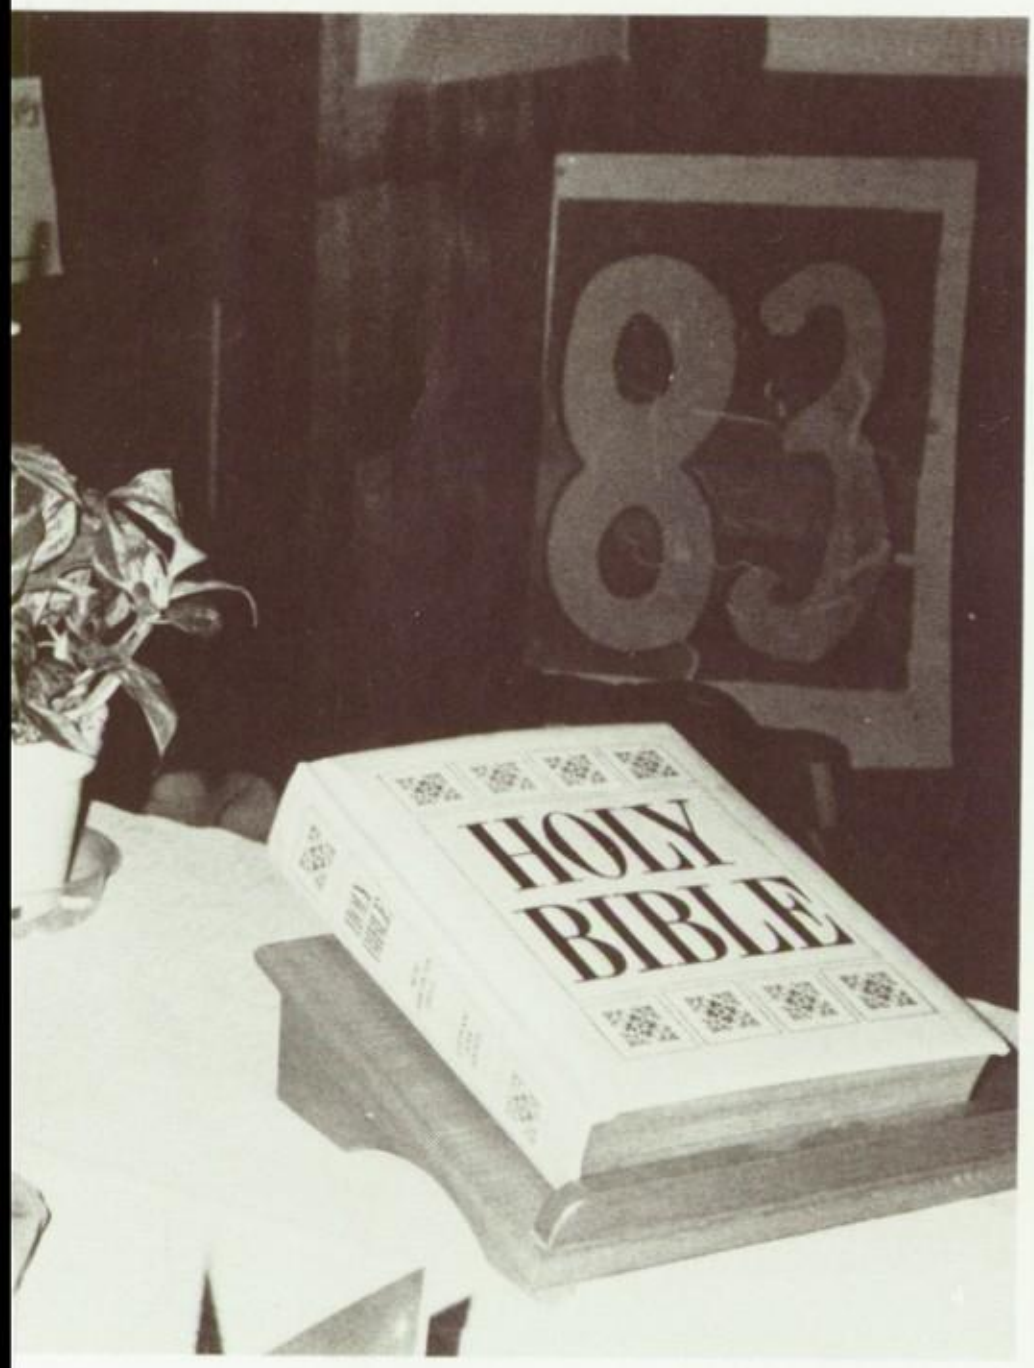
The members of Campus Ministry are responsible for guiding our spiritual community, both students and faculty. They provide and arrange all school Masses, special prayer, personal counseling, and help with class retreats. They also direct community service opportunities. The campus ministers are Fr. Daniel L. Conditt, director; Sr. Norma Jean Turner, B.V.M.; Fr. Tom E. Seidel, C.S.C.; Joe Brunsman; Mindy Giles; Janet Lessard; Tom Phelon and Bill Potters.

The theme for the Senior class retreat was "Friends I will Remember You," its location was near Prescott at Camp Tepayac. Mr. Contento, Fr. Seetch. and Mrs. Webb gave discussions on topics like friendship, relationships, sex, maturity, communication, divorce, and the family unit. The seniors took part in ice breakers, communication games, music meditations, writing letters to Jesus, a Mass, and a unity candle ceremony. This retreat differed from all others by the special unity developed between all the seniors.

The juniors selected unity as the theme for their retreat, and held it in the Hilman Center. Their guest speaker was Dan Consiglio; their topics of discussion were being human, being real, and being one; and their activities held were rock painting and exchanging time, a Pretzel meal, and a walk around the block.

The sophomore class retreat was held in the Hilman Center, and was based on the theme "Prayer Is . . ." Fr. Conditt, Fr. Fetters, and Fr. Tepsic spoke on the topic of meditative prayer, personal prayer, and liturgical prayer. The students participated in the services and meditations by writing poems and reading them aloud and preparing the music prior to singing.

Our Spirituality Thrives



1) Mike Williams and Pat Locher practice their part during dress rehersal. 2) King Arthur, portrayed by Eugene Cavallo, introduces himself to Guenevere, Carla DiGiovine. 3) Mr. Lizotte demonstrates how carefully applied make up can bring a character to life. 4) Diane Tapia, Brian Myers, Bill Scully, Carla DiGiovine, and Mike Williams all sing cheerfully on a lusty day in the month of May. 5) Tom Phelan as Sir Lancelot sings about the beautiful place, Camelot.

Cast works together

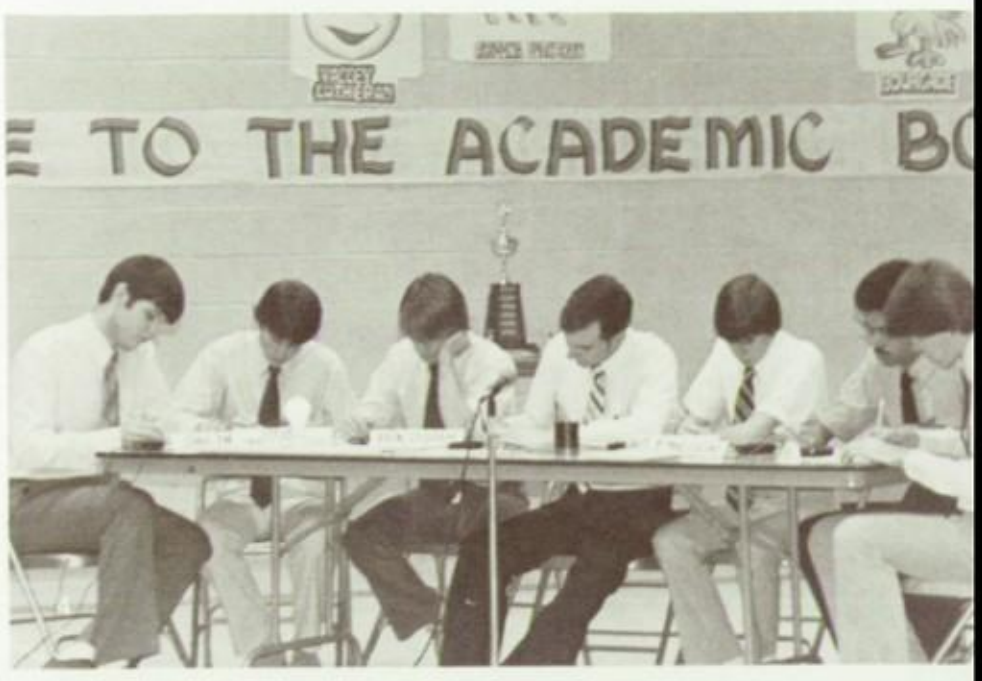
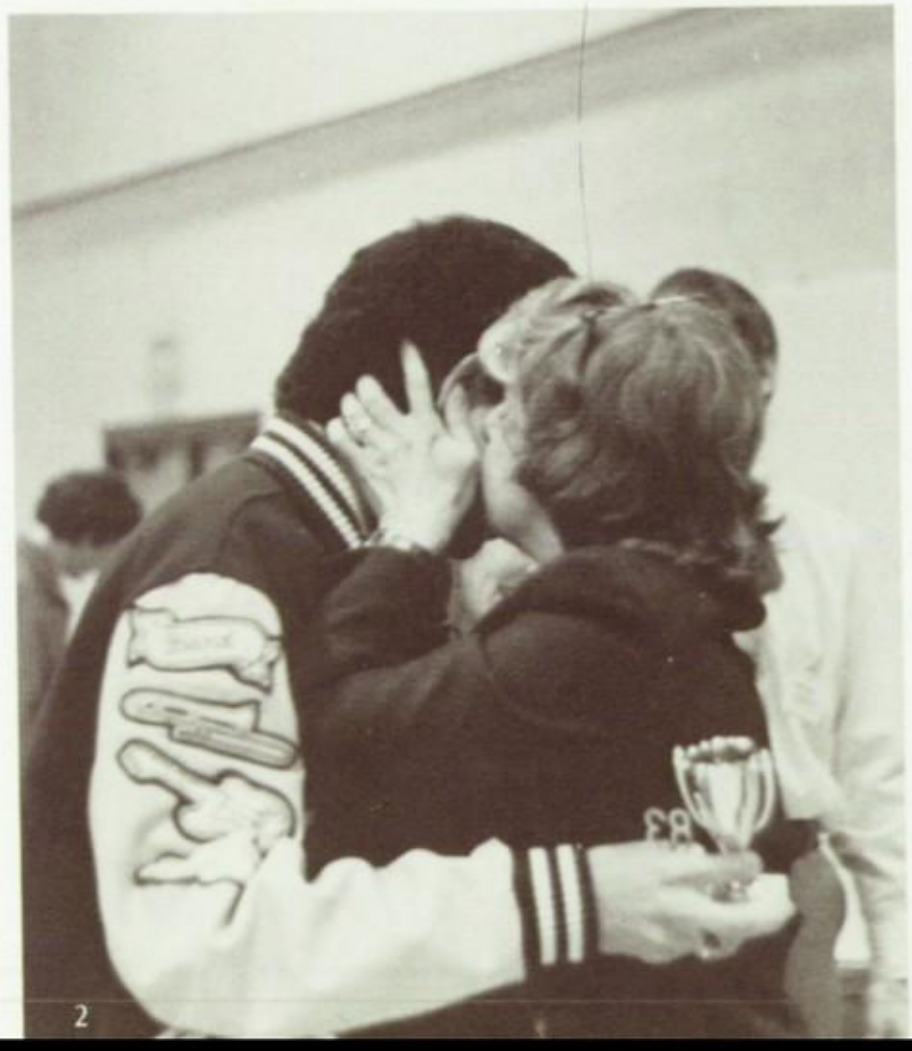
The Spring Production was Camelot directed by Mr. David Lizotte. The play ran for four days straight, March 3rd, 4th, 5th and 6th. The auditions for the play began in December before Christmas break. A couple days after they began, practices began and continued on till the day of the play.

The cast did other performances besides the four nights that were scheduled. They went to many different grade schools and performed parts of the play for them as publicity.

Queen Guenevere was played by Carla DiGiovine, King Arthur was played by Eugene Cavallo, and Tom Phalen was Sir Lancelot. The actors, the chorus people, stage crew, lighting people, and "gofers" worked together to perform Camelot.

1) Jeff Osborne, Erik Stidham, Mike Collins, Eugene Cavallo, Art Kerschen, Chris Zagar, and Steve Van Leeuwen rejoice in their triumph. 2) Mrs. Scully congratulates Mike Collins for his part in the Eagle victory. 3) Eugene Cavallo proudly displays the trophy the Eagles have won. 4) Chris Zagar, Steve Van Leeuwen, Erik Stidham, Eugene Cavallo, Art Kerschen, Mike Collins, and Jeff Osborne puzzle over a difficult problem. 5) Chris Zagar confidently finds the answer to a critical question. 6) Michael Dixon prepares to ask another question.





Michael Dixon emcees Second Annual Academic Bowl

Michael Dixon of KOY radio fame was the guest host of the Second Annual Bourgade Invitational Academic Bowl which was held in the gym. The team consisted of Eugene Cavallo, Erik Stidham, Mike Collins, Arthur Kerschen, Steve Van Leeuwen, Jeff Osbourne and Chris Zagar. The five teams pitted against Bourgade were Seton Catholic, Arizona Lutheran Academy, Valley Lutheran, Gerard Catholic and St. Mary's.

The different categories were in the fields of Scripture, Language/Literature, Science, Sports, General Knowledge, History, and Math. During the "Bowl" competition; Bourgade's team members rose to the challenge the other teams gave them. Our own Eagle team took first place, while Seton, who had taken the trophy last year, came in second place.

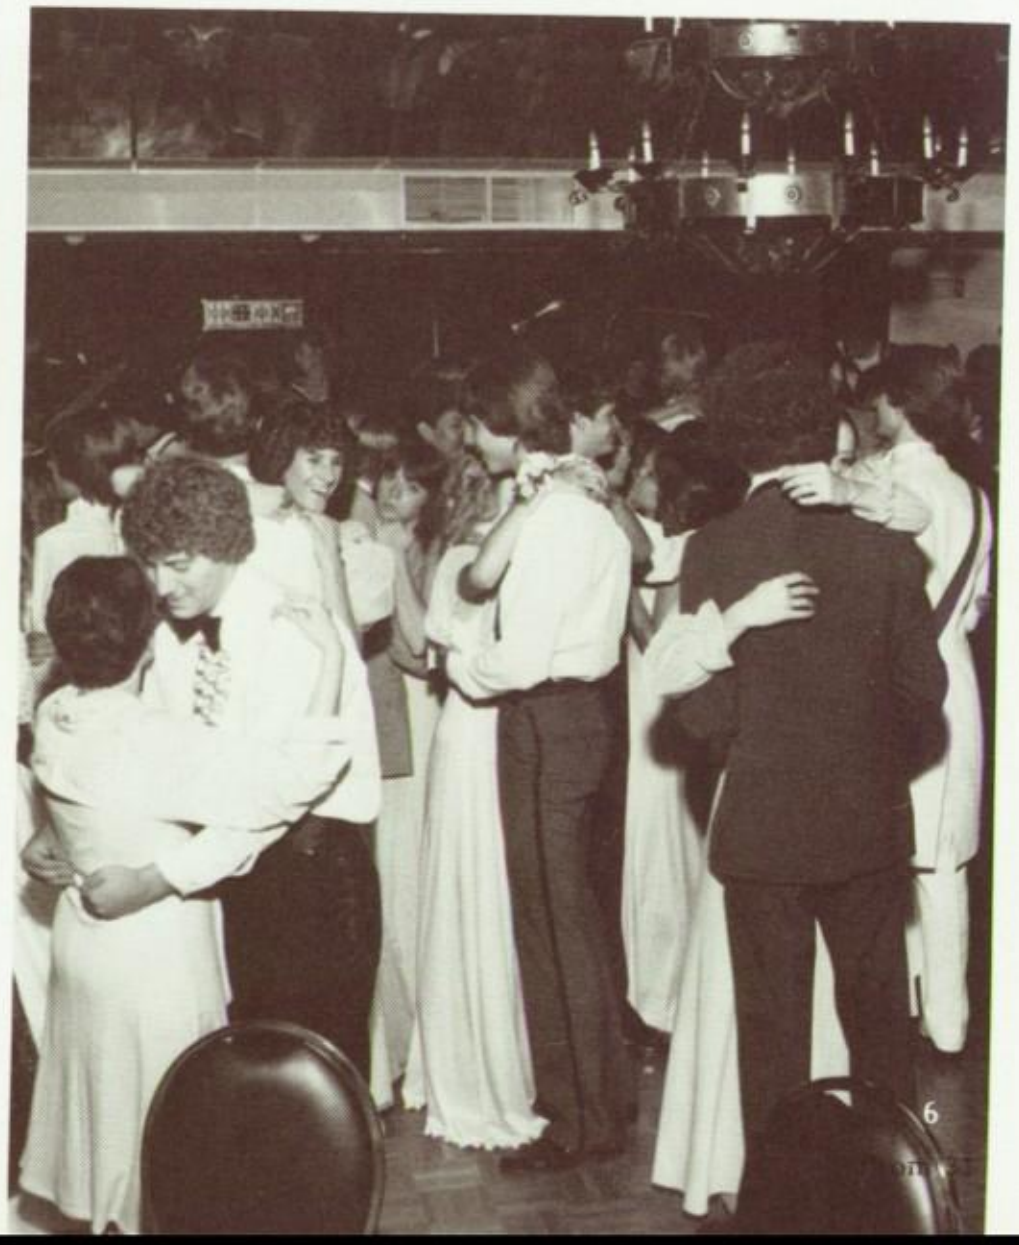
'83 Prom moves out of the Gym

The Junior-Senior prom was an extravagant event this year; it was held at the Cedar Club. The decorations suited the theme, Carry Us Along. The sophomore Prom-servers were Stacey Joyce, Angie Cavallo, Dawn Taylor, and Lisa Schambs.

Bob Hatfield and Cindy Trejo were crowned the 1982-83 Prom King and Queen. When the winners were announced, Bob Hatfield was not present. The Queen danced the Royalty dance with Manuel Chavez.

1) Stacy Joyce, Angie Cavallo, Dawn Taylor, and Lisa Schambs, the prom servers, wait for the couples to arrive. 2) The prom goers dance to the band Listen. 3) Steve McMillan, Carla Gilbert, and Cheryl Fillingham enjoy the prom. 4) The prom royalty, top row; Cheryl Fillingham, John Taylor, Pat Locher, and Valerie Webb. Bottom row; Kevin Kiszczack, Kris Rathke, Queen-Cindy Trejo, King-Bob Hatfield, Sheila Cosgrove, and Chris Simon. 5) Cindy Callender and Karen Gill laugh over some of the couples' antics. 6) The happy couples enjoy a final slow dance.

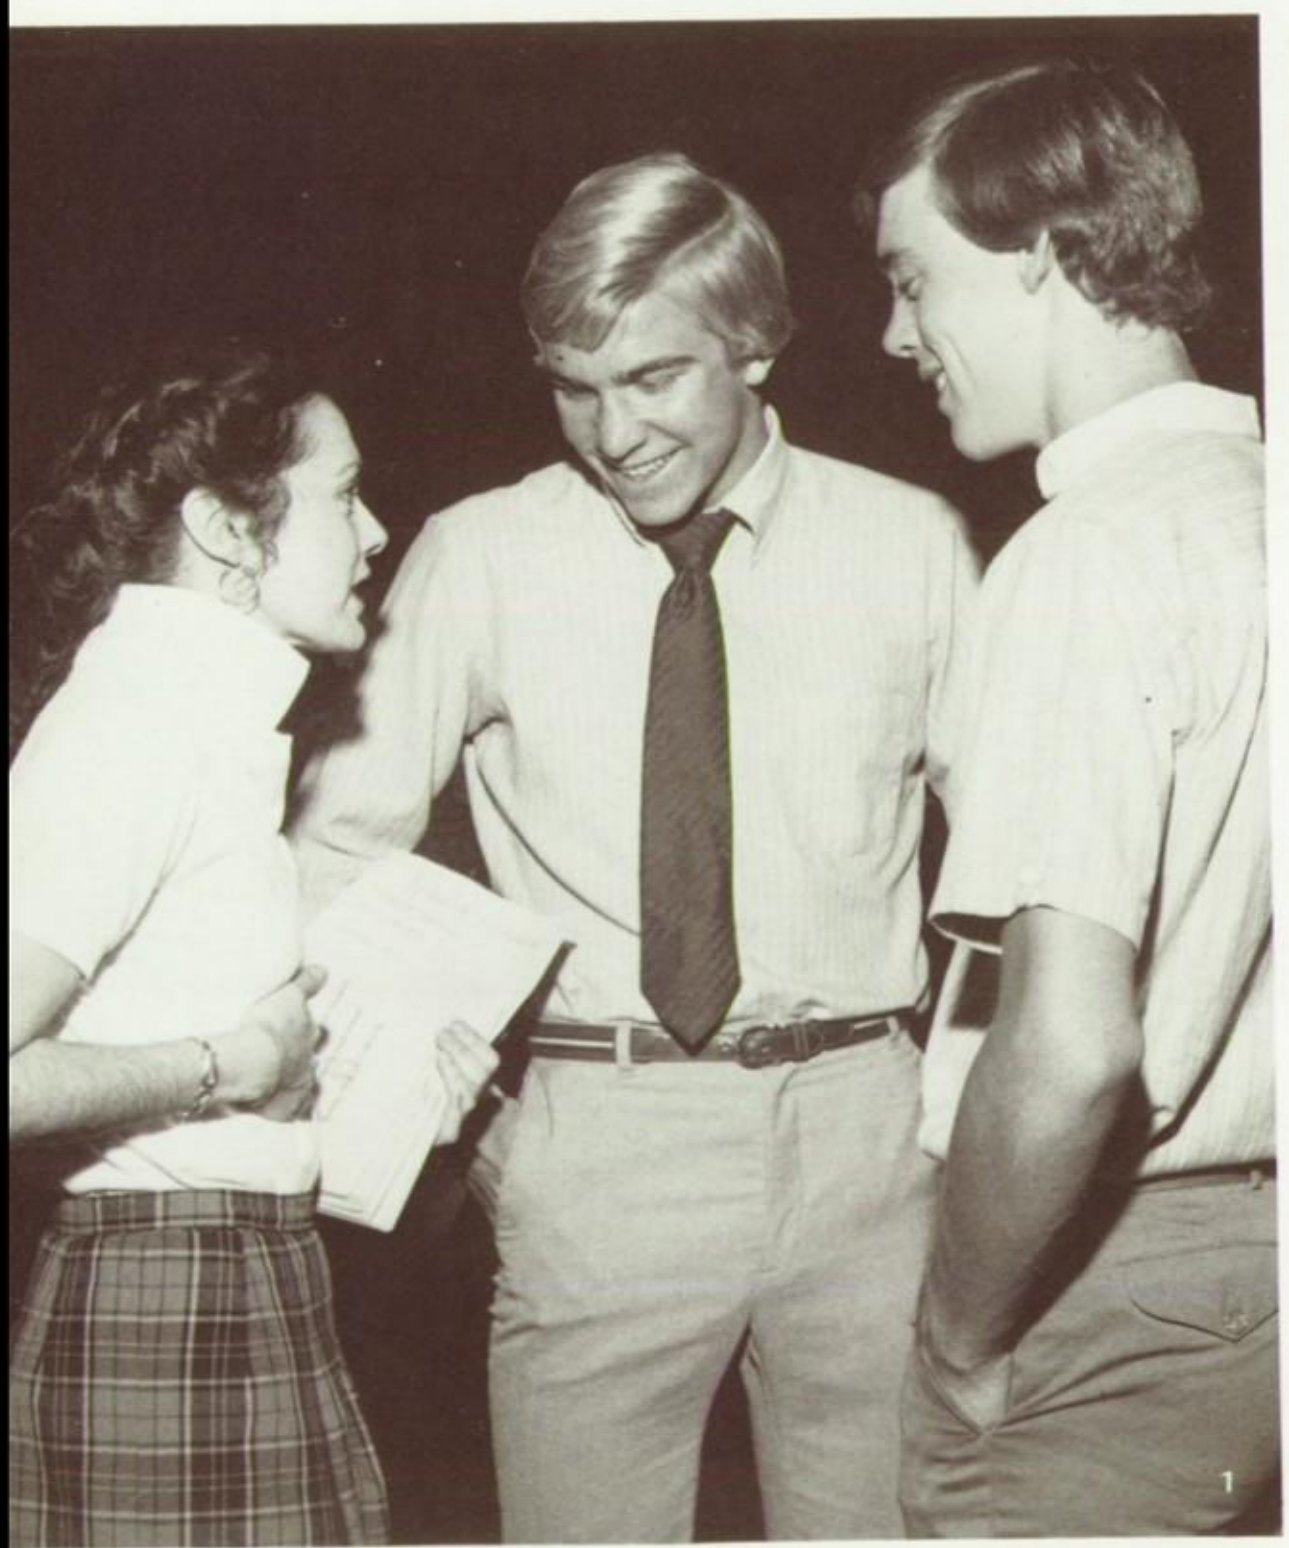


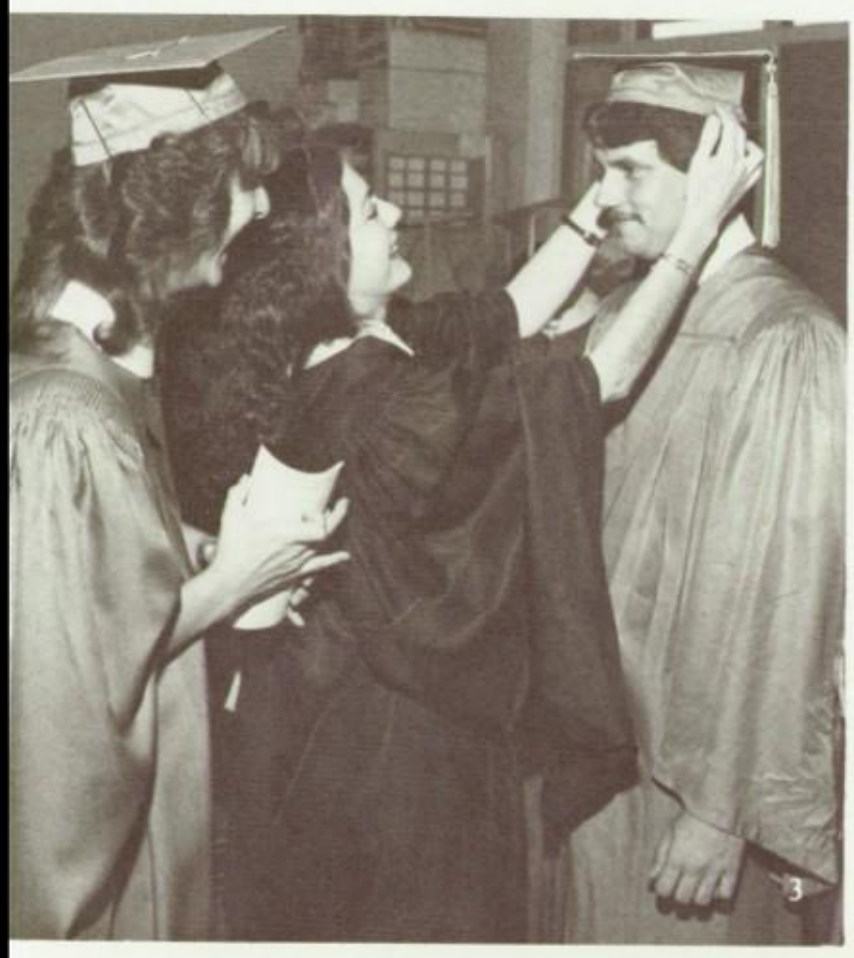
"This is the Dawning of a New Day"

The Senior Banquet took place on Monday, May 23, at 6:00 p.m. The teachers, dressed in everyday Bourgade uniform apparel, waited on the seniors and their parents. After dinner was served, the senior awards were presented along with tokens of appreciation to Mr. Angerer, Miss Bockius, Mrs. Mascarelli, Mrs. Meier, Mrs. Scully, and Fr. Tepsic. A slide show ended the evening in a pleasant tone, stirring many memorable moments.

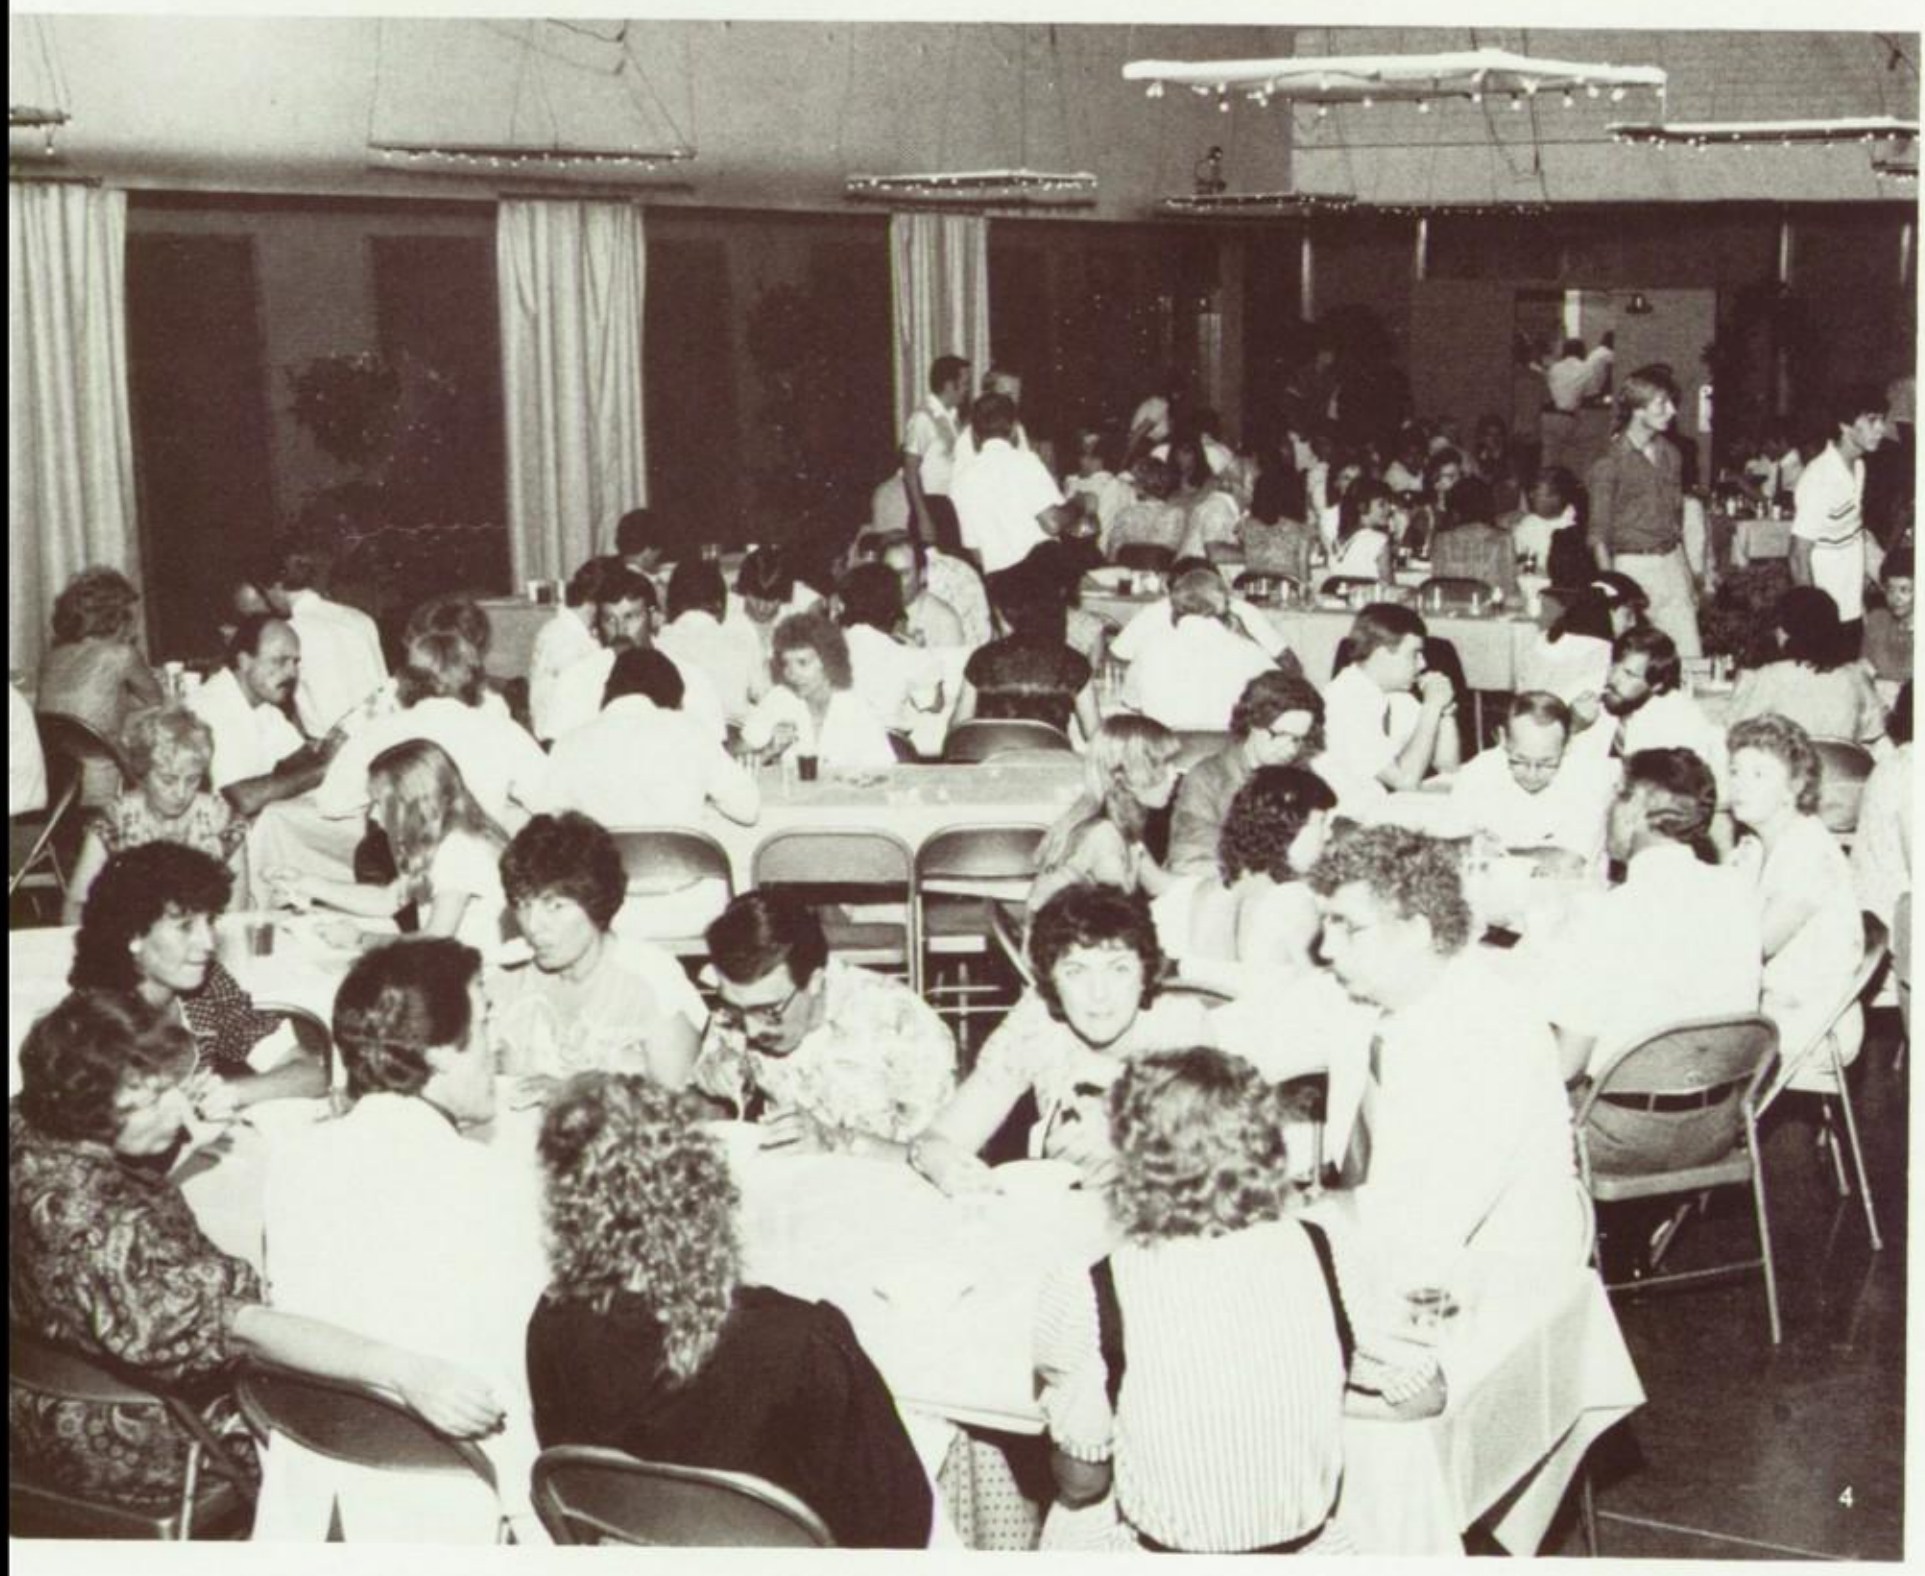
The Bacclaureate Mass, the beginning of one of the most important days for the seniors, began at 11:00 a.m., on May 26, at SS. Simon and Jude Cathedral. The seniors had purchased roses beforehand and distributed them at the Kiss of Peace.

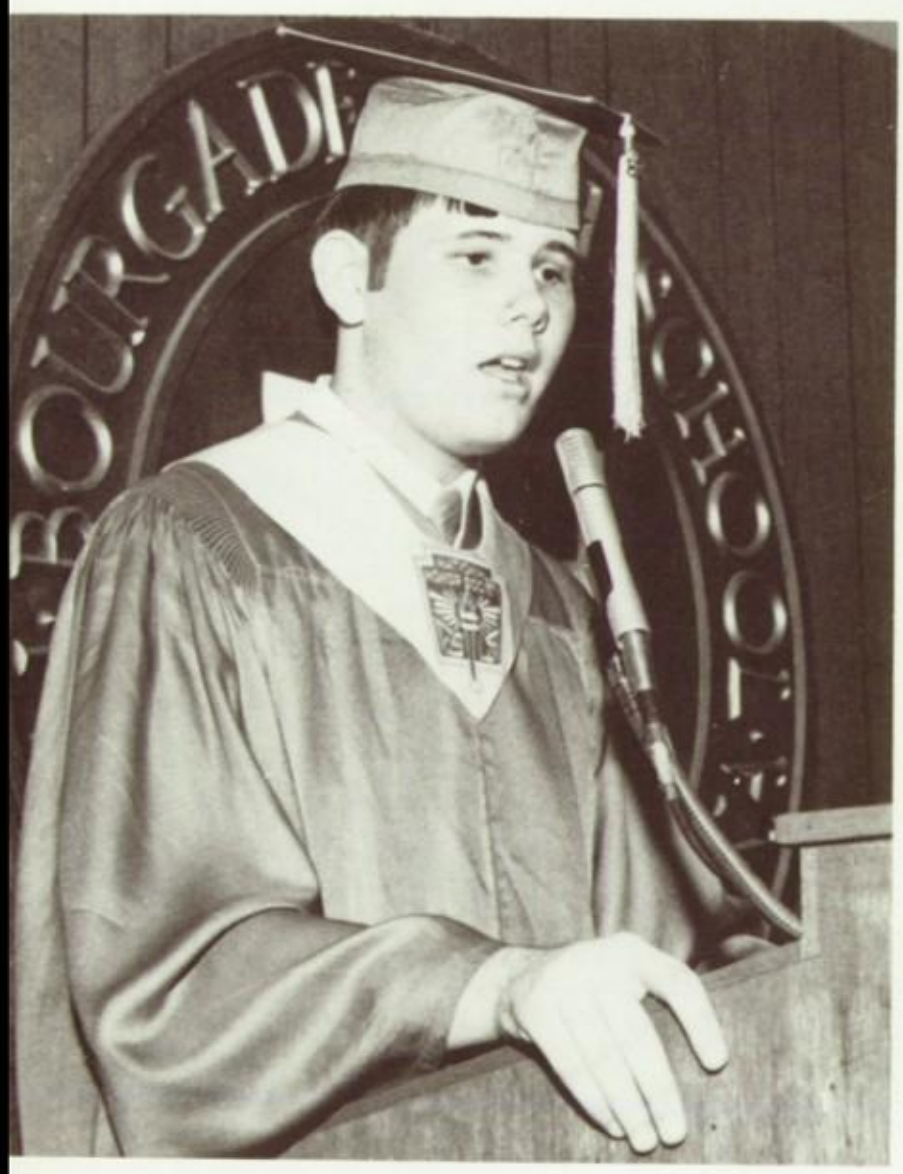
"This is the Dawning of a New Day" was the theme of the graduating class of 1983. This year's graduation commencement exercises were held on Thursday, May 26, at 7:30 p.m., in the center quad. The invocation was given by Eric Stidham, class president; Eugene Cavallo, salutatorian, welcomed The Most Rev. Bishop O'Brien, family, friends, and fellow graduates; Fr. Al Hoorman, commencement speaker, addressed the graduates; Mrs. Patricia Scully, Vice Principal, presented the graduates as Fr. Don Fetters, C.S.C., Principal, awarded the diplomas; The Most Rev. Thomas O'Brien, Bishop of Phoenix, gave his remarks and the Benediction; Chris Zagar, valedictorian, said farewell to one and all.

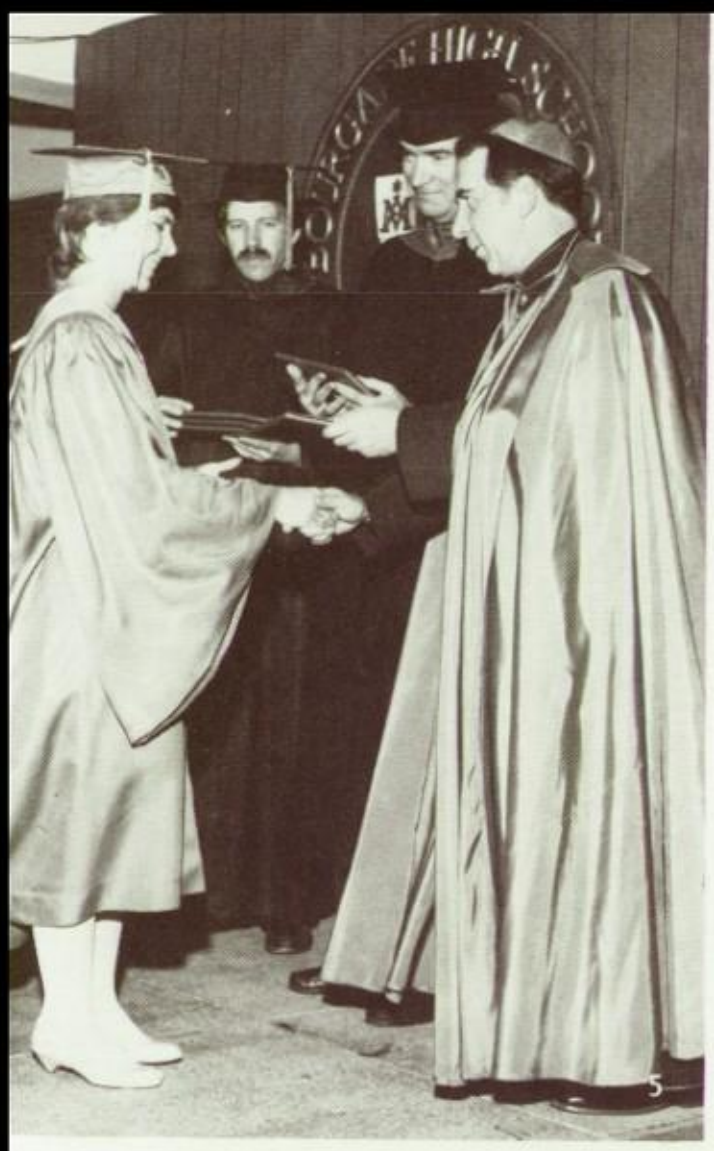




(1) Miss Bockius flaunts her new "Bourgade" image before Warren Miller and Pat Locher. (2) Danny Lott sincerely presents a prayer of meditation, following the Communion procession. (3) Amused, Kathy Chenevey watches Miss Bockius, Senior class advisor, place Chuck Zerby's cap on properly. (4) An onlooking view of the Senior Banquet displays the decor arranged by the teachers.







(1) Chris Zagar, valedictorian, gives his provocative farewells to his fellow graduates. (2) Kevin Kiszczak and Brenda Angerer proudly display their winning smiles which honored them with the "Best Smile" award. (3) Kathy Chenevey and Kathy Gallery double check to make sure everything appears to be perfect before entering SS. Simon and Jude Cathedral. (4) Cindy Comon, Sara Shiles, David Olson, Kris Rathke, Mark Moreno, and Carla DiGiovine share their talented abilities, during the Bacclaureate Mass. (5) Upon accepting her diploma, Lisa Badowich respectfully shakes The Most Rev. Bishop O'Brien's hand as Fr. Don Fetters and Fr. Anthony Cordeiro watch.

Rain, rain, go away

To much dismay of the art students and Mrs. Mascarelli (the art teacher), the Art Room had many leaks. Many attempts were made to fix the holes in the ceiling, but none seemed to hold. So, throughout the school year, students took turns holding umbrellas while drawing, or simply holding buckets to avoid wet puddles on the floor. But at times, the rain actually aided the students in their projects, such as keeping their molding clay moist while trying to form it — if they sat in the right place. The Art Room students and Mrs. Mascarelli were just getting used to the leaks and the umbrellas when the roof and ceiling were finally repaired. But it just happened that the rain stopped at this time also. Sometimes it doesn't pay to be efficient!

1) Mrs. Mascarelli enjoys working on her sculpture project of Jesus Christ crowned with thorns. 2) Ernie Soto waits patiently for the next drop of water to fall into his rain bucket. 3) Mrs. Mascarelli and Ernie Soto take advantage of the fact that the leak has temporarily stopped. 4) Kelli Howard happily holds an umbrella to keep dry from one of the many leaks in the art room.

This year the International Thesbian Society was reactivated. Mr. Lizotte proudly took on the position of advisor, and set the organization on a prestigious level.

Admittance into the society was based on a points system. Points are acquired according to past experience relating to the drama department. Not only performance on stage, but also working back stage are awarded points. (For example: working with the lights, make-up, or stage crew.)

The Hiking club was started this year for anyone interested in hiking the outdoors. Student Government initiated the club and set a goal of hiking Havasupai Canyon. Approximately two hikes per month, either to Squaw Peak or South Mountain, were followed through; and Havasupai was endeavored on April 22-25.

JV/Varsity Cheer

The Varsity and Junior Varsity cheerlines were very close to each other this year. They all coordinated ideas to help one another look and perform their best. At Cheer Camp, the Varsity line, with Wendy Davies as Captian and Mary Welty as Co-Captain, took three Superior awards. They also picked up the Spirit Stick, this being quite an honor. During the football and basketball seasons, the Varsity line kept the players going by making them spirit buttons and posters to promote team and school enthusiasm. The Junior Varsity cheerline also contributed to promoting spirit for the J.V. teams by bringing doughnuts for the players and even treating them to pizza one night. All Superiors and one excellent award were given to the J.V. line at camp — this was out of the ordinary for the years past. Captain Kim Spano and Co-Captain Kris Libuskowski were chosen by the line as leaders. The Homecoming game was very special for both the cheerlines. They all got to cheer as a united line, and each girl made or brought something for all the other members to show her love and gratefulness for the others.

Matmaids/Spiritline

With a number of ten, the matmaid line promoted spirit, non stop, during the wrestling season. The line started the year out with a little lag due to their questionable existence. Even without the chance and experience from camp, they learned the importance of enthusiasm and encouragement, and struggled to teach others. Inspite of the distant traveling, flat tires, running out of gas, and bus trouble, the line managed to make it there on time to cheer on the wrestlers.

The girls cared for the guys by preparing pep notes, clever posters, and boxes of munchies for the distant invitationals. Matmaid seniors: Monica McAdams and Maureen O'Connell.

This was the first year for the Spiritline. The Spiritline is a new line formed this year to support the girls in sports. The new line consists of mostly freshmen, with a few sophomores. This year was mainly a trial and error time, and was handled under the advision of Mrs. Moore. Along with cheering the girls on to victory, they provide "care boxes" for them on away games.

(1) The matmaid cheer line/From Top: Beth Kelley, Michelle Scheller, Maureen O'Connell, Louise Shiles, Judy Bernas (captain), Bonnie Burke, Monica McAdams, Michelle Webb (co-captain), Lisa Valente, and Tana Martinez (secretary-treasurer). Quill and Scroll

This year the Quill and Scroll Society inducted ten new members. The induction was held with the Spanish Honor Society and the National Honor Society inductions. This saved time and gave the parents and friends who attended a look at two other organizations at Bourgade. Quill and Scroll sponsors the Academic Bowl each year with the help of the Newspaper and Yearbook staffs. After placing last in the Bowl in '82, we beat five other schools and brought home the 1st place trophy this year. We had an all-male team chosen from many students who participated in the preliminaries. The selection was based on a point system in each division, and those with the most points who worked individually and as a part of a team were chosen as members. It was also held live, which aided in audience-encouragement.

1) Carla DiGiovine, together with Lori Ann Oberch, Donna Savage, and Bobby Sample, works on a complex math problem in Academic Bowl preliminaries. 2) Scott Lipman and Ed Zyburt push the button to answer another 4-point question. 3) Cheryl Sindorf, Bill Scully, and Tim Beerling patiently wait to be called on for an answer. 4) Cindy Callender hesitates to raise her hand as Bill Scully displays his confidence in answering the question. 5) Tim Beerling hangs his head in embarrassment after giving a wrong answer. 6) Father Seetch and Miss Heath anxiously await the decision of the judge. 7) The Quill and Scroll Society (from left): Carla DiGiovine (president), Wendy Davies, Maureen O'Connell, Karla Johnstonbaugh, Mrs. Patt Scully (sponsor), Tim Catellier, Bobby Sample, Eugene Cavallo, and Chris Zagar.

Bookends

The chief work of Bourgade's Library Club, nicknamed the "Bookends," was the expansion of knowledge through the upgrading of the library's collection.

The Bookends consisted of four members: Peter van Leeuwen, president, Joe Vignali, vice-president, Lori Ann Oberch, secretary, and Karin Muller, treasurer, all of whom spent time working in the library. A field trip to see a computerized system of checking out books at a nearby library provided a learning experience for the club members as well.

The Library Tea, an annual event, was hosted by Mrs. Weninger and the club. The Bourgade faculty, members of the WASC evaluation team and Bishop O'Brien were all in attendance.

Student Government

This year our Student Government had a full and successful year. They planned many activities to get the student body involved. Some of these activities included putting up a weekly newsletter on the Eagle bulletin boards, sponsoring dances, holding a blood drive in September and in March, starting the Hiking Club, and making Turkey-shaped cookies for everyone at Thanksgiving. They also presented a check for over $6,000 at the telethon for the largest and most successful high school dance-a-thon in Arizona for Muscular Dystrophy.

Newspaper/Yearbook

The newspaper staff, consisting of fourteen members, publishes the Flyer monthly. The Flyer covers close-ups on various students involved in certain activities and follows up on all school functions. The staff handles refreshments and publicity for the fall and spring plays.

The Anchor staff works throughout the year, beginning in August and ending at graduation. The advisor, Patt Scully, and editor, Carla DiGiovine, work together to guide the staff members.

The Flyer and Anchor staffs co-sponsored the Academic Bowl with Quill and Scroll.

Competitive Season for Varsity Team

This year the Varsity team had a very tough and competitive season. There were fewer athletes going out for the sport than in previous years.

The Eagles played Apache Junction for the homecoming game. The team was well supported by the school, with a week of activities to help the guys get psyched up for the game. The score of the game (7-12) ruined the team's chance to be in the playoffs.

When head coach Mr. Jim Davis was asked what games were played well, he said Mingus and Wickenburg because "we made things happen our way and when that happens you will win."

The following players received special awards for their outstanding abilities: First Team All Conference - Vince Ramella, Linebacker. Ted Kapitan Splitend. Arnold Sota, Kicker. Second Team All Conference - Chuck Zerby, Offensive Lineman. John Taylor and Chris Simon, Defensive Line. Dave Kiehle, Linebacker. Honorable Mention - Daniel Lambros, Offensive Back.

J.V. excites home fans

The J.V. season started off slowly but picked up by beating Mingus 18-12. The many hours of practice paid off because they won every game on their home field. Each time the crowd watched an exciting game. Defense and offense improved with each game. The team had a good season ending with 5 wins, 2 losses, and 1 tie. The boys learned how to be winners, and will hopefully carry on their skills to next year.

Varsity season ends 6-8

The Varsity Volleyball season started off slowly with a loss to Wickenburg and Gerard but gradually picked up by defeating Peoria. The rest of the season went well for the girls. The very talented nine girl team consisted of two seniors and seven juniors. All of the girls worked very hard to make this an outstanding season. They all had a lot of fun and enjoyed working with Coach Reno.

J.V. rakes up 11-3 season

The Junior Varsity Volleyball team had an outstanding season this year. They fought a tough schedule against stiff competition and racked up a record of eleven and three. The team consisted of both freshmen and sophomores. Members included Stephanie Jaurequi, Stephanie Jagger, Stephanie Estfan, Katie Jagger, Judy Montoya, Teresa Villa, Linda Polanco, Angie Cavallo, Kim Rabe, Kim Sellars and Mary Sindorf.

The Head Coach Father Fetters stated that the team started out with good basic skills and developed them admirably. Father Fetters also said that the J.V.'s playing skill and strong support by the loyal Bourgade fans earned them a victorious season.

Wins increase over the years

The Varsity Boys Basketball team, with four wins and fifteen losses, did better than the last four teams of previous years.

Coach Lane, Bourgade '72, plays and coaches the Police Olympics. He coached SS. Simon and Jude grade school basketball team for a year.

Mr. Lane thought the funniest part of the season was the Varsity Cheerleaders' packing "enough clothes and food to last them for years, when on a one-night trip, including stuffed animals."

Teamwork pays off

The J.V. boys team worked hard to make this be a successful season. The team gave it their all and stuck it out together. Even though this wasn't the best season the boys all had a good time and enjoyed playing. The team spirit really kept them together. They are looking forward to next years season already. Working with Coach D'Amico the boys gained some new skills and experience, that they will hopefully carry on to next year.

Final score never shows true picture

Despite the fact that the Varsity Girls Basketball team's overall record wasn't outstanding, Coach Aguilero felt that "their ability to learn and their self-discipline to keep doing things the way they should be kept them going".

Julie Estfan received an award for best defensive player and was also named all-conference. Mr. Aguilero awarded honorable mention trophies to Cindy Callender and Mary Krekler. Dee Dee Concholar received most improved player award.

New skills developed

Starting off with a loss to Phoenix Indian, the J.V. Basketball Team shaped up a lot. They won the next three games after that. The season went very well. They went on to win eleven more games and only losing three more. The girls practiced almost everyday from 2:30 until 4:30 in the gym. Here is where they improved on their passing, dribbling, and shooting. Mr. Walker was working with a group of talented girls who will hopefully carry on what they have learned.

The Wrestling Team took home a second place trophy from their first invitational at Scottsdale Christian Academy. They performed very well as a team and as individuals. Three of our boys made it to the state championships held at Tolleson High School. They were: Joe Brunsman, Arnold Soto and Tom Dwyer. They all took fifth place. The team consisted of mostly new members. These boys did well too. Joe Chavez took a second place at the Scottsdale Christian Invitationals, Brian Myers took a second place at Scottsdale Christian Invitations, and Charles Beechina took a second place also.

Eagles soar with spirit

The J.V. Baseball team was led by Fr. Bill Seetch, C.S.C. The team consisted of thirteen young men working together for the first time. It was also their first time working with Fr. Seetch. Putting their efforts together, they ended up with a four wins and seven losses season. The team lost their first game to Parker 10-0 but kept their spirits up to win their next game against Phoenix Indian. A lot of new talent was discovered and there were improvements made in hitting and pitching throughout the season, so everyone is looking forward to next year's season.

The few, the proud

Coach Mr. Contento feels that the reason this track season as a whole did not do well is because of the lack of participants. Next year he hopes to see a lot of new athletes and an assistant coach to help.

Those who went out and stuck to it got their reward at the end. Fifteen out of twenty-five went to state and out of that Mark White and Mike Fitzpatrick both placed third in their events

The truth about the Administration

Mrs. Tunnell, who has been at Bourgade for eight years, teaches Algebra 3-4, Geometry 1-2, Accelerated Geometry and is the Dean of Students. Her favorite place to visit is California, where she rides her motorcycle, reads and swims. She dislikes detentions, jugs and probation.

Mrs. Scully has been with Bourgade for twelve years. This year Mrs. Scully teaches Senior English Analysis, one semester of Junior English Analysis, one semester of Senior English and is the advisor of the Yearbook staff. Her favorite pastimes are fishing, hiking and reading. She also collects miniature hippopotamuses as a hobby. She enjoys flowers, surprises and getting away to the back country. Replying to our question about Mrs. Scully's opinion of President Reagan, she stated, "Not Much!"

Father Markos has been teaching at Bourgade for one year. He teaches Freshman English and is one of Bourgade's student counselors. His favorite pastimes are fishing and reading. Collecting miniature statues of Our Lady is also of interest to him. He finds it rewarding to help people and to see students learn things that they have difficulty with.

Father Don Fetters, the principal, has been with Bourgade for seven years and taught U.S. Government second semester this year. His hobbies are racquetball, skiing and art, and his favorite collection of items is eagles and dust. When inquiring about his favorite foods, he replied, "Ice cream, and tamales (but not at the same time)." Watching someone's success, mountains, music, and the sea are all pastimes which he enjoys. Displeasing to him are lima beans, mud, tears, and injustice.

Mr. Walker has been teaching biology and I.P.S. at Bourgade for twelve years. His favorite pastimes are photography, dog shows and traveling. He enjoys Pizza and Mexican food. We asked Mr. Walker who his favorite music group and song are and he replied, "Any of the current rock groups, and 'Pushin' too hard' by the Seeds."

Faculty fill cash boxes

Sister Norma Jean Turner, B.V.M.

In a year of undergoing numerous changes in the Bourgade maintenance and cafeteria staff, faculty members filled some of the empty shifts. Sr. Norma Jean Turner of Campus Ministry and Fr. Thomas Seidel, C.S.C., took over the cash box for the busy lunch lines, thus making the job of Mrs. Becky Giver and Mrs. Marge Kurth less hectic.

Mr. Jack Whittle became director of plant maintenance, replacing Mr. Leon Winckle. Mr. Art Andrews, Mr. Bob West, and Mr. Eric Oligschlaeger continued in their never-ending work of beautifying the campus. "But I wonder why," Mr. Whittle mused, "with so much practice and good aid, the waste receptacles get missed."

Mrs. Marge Kurth and Mrs. Becky Giver

Faculty express opinions

Father Seidel, who has been here for one year, teaches French 1-2. His favorite pastime is jogging. He takes pleasure in collecting books and prefers health food. Father Seidel enjoys the ocean.

Miss Heath has taught Freshman English for four years and is the advisor of the newspaper staff. Her hobbies are collecting glass figurines and political buttons, traveling and reading. According to various students, her famous quote is "open up your notebook to your assignment page." Miss Heath enjoys visiting London, England. Some of the things that she likes are the well-mannered people and the beautiful nature scene. When asked about her feelings towards President Reagan, she replied, "feelings are unprintable."

Miss Bockius teaches Senior English, U.S. History, U.S. Government, Junior Analysis and Freshman Analysis. She taught here about five years ago. Having a versatile appetite, Miss Bockius enjoys Mexican, Chinese, and Pennsylvania Dutch foods. San Francisco, Washington D.C. and the Grand Canyon are places that appeal to her. She appreciates beautiful weather and spending time with interesting people.

Teachers enjoy a variety of pastimes

Sr. Celine Marie McKay O.P. is one of the new faces here at school. Her favorite pastimes are crocheting, knitting, and watching TV. She also likes to spend time here on campus. One thing that makes Sister happy is people who aren't tardy. She doesn't like outspoken teenagers, but she does think Bourgade students are great.

Mrs. Barbra Ann Shupe is the new bookkeeper. She is married and has four children. Her favorite pastimes are going to sport events and visiting with good friends. She likes to go to Colorado and she is happy when she has all the family together on holidays.

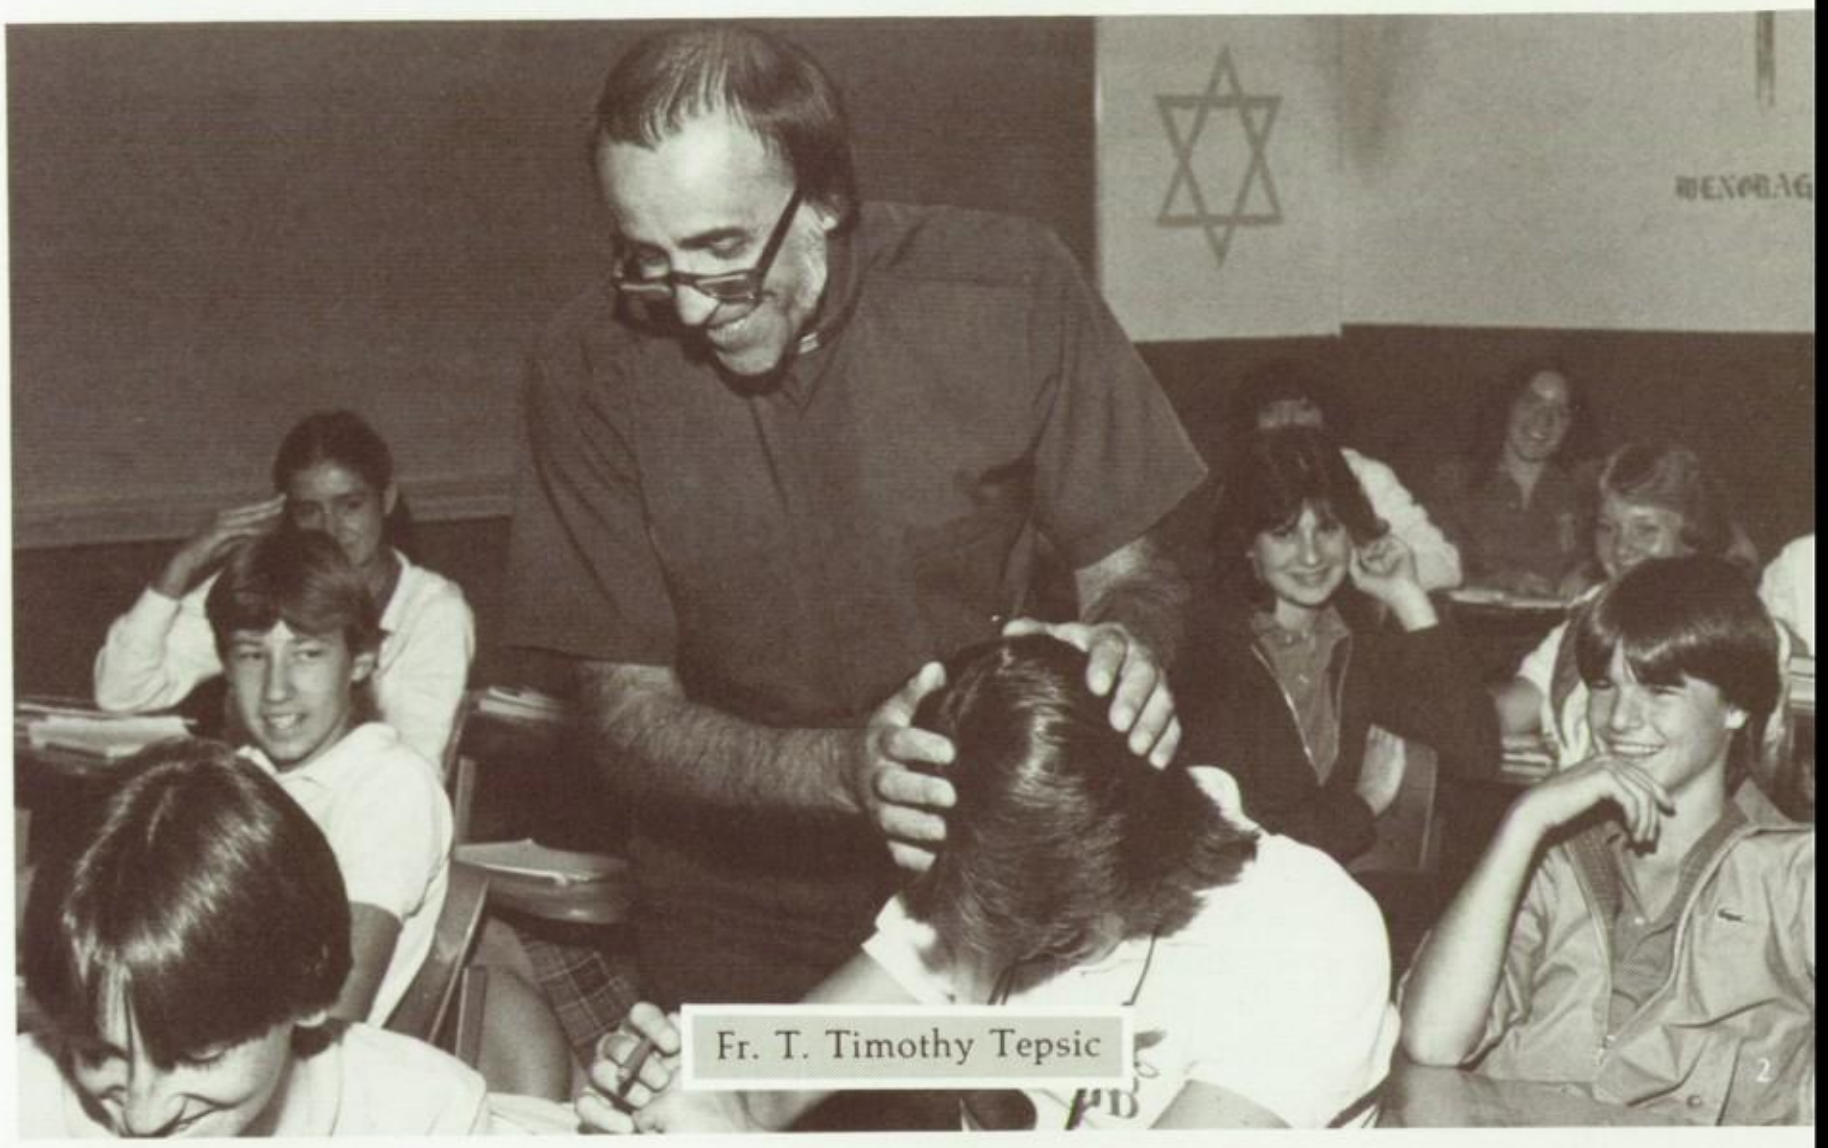
Mrs. Mary Palsma teaches Algebra 3-4, Accelerated Algebra 3-4, Accelerated Algebra 1-2, and Senior Advanced Math. Her preferred pastimes are reading, playing bridge. Her most liked food is a banana split.

Mrs. Waunita Fraley has taught here for two years. She is married, has six children and two grandchildren. Her favorite person is Jesus Christ our Lord. One thing that she dislikes are people that think they are better than others.

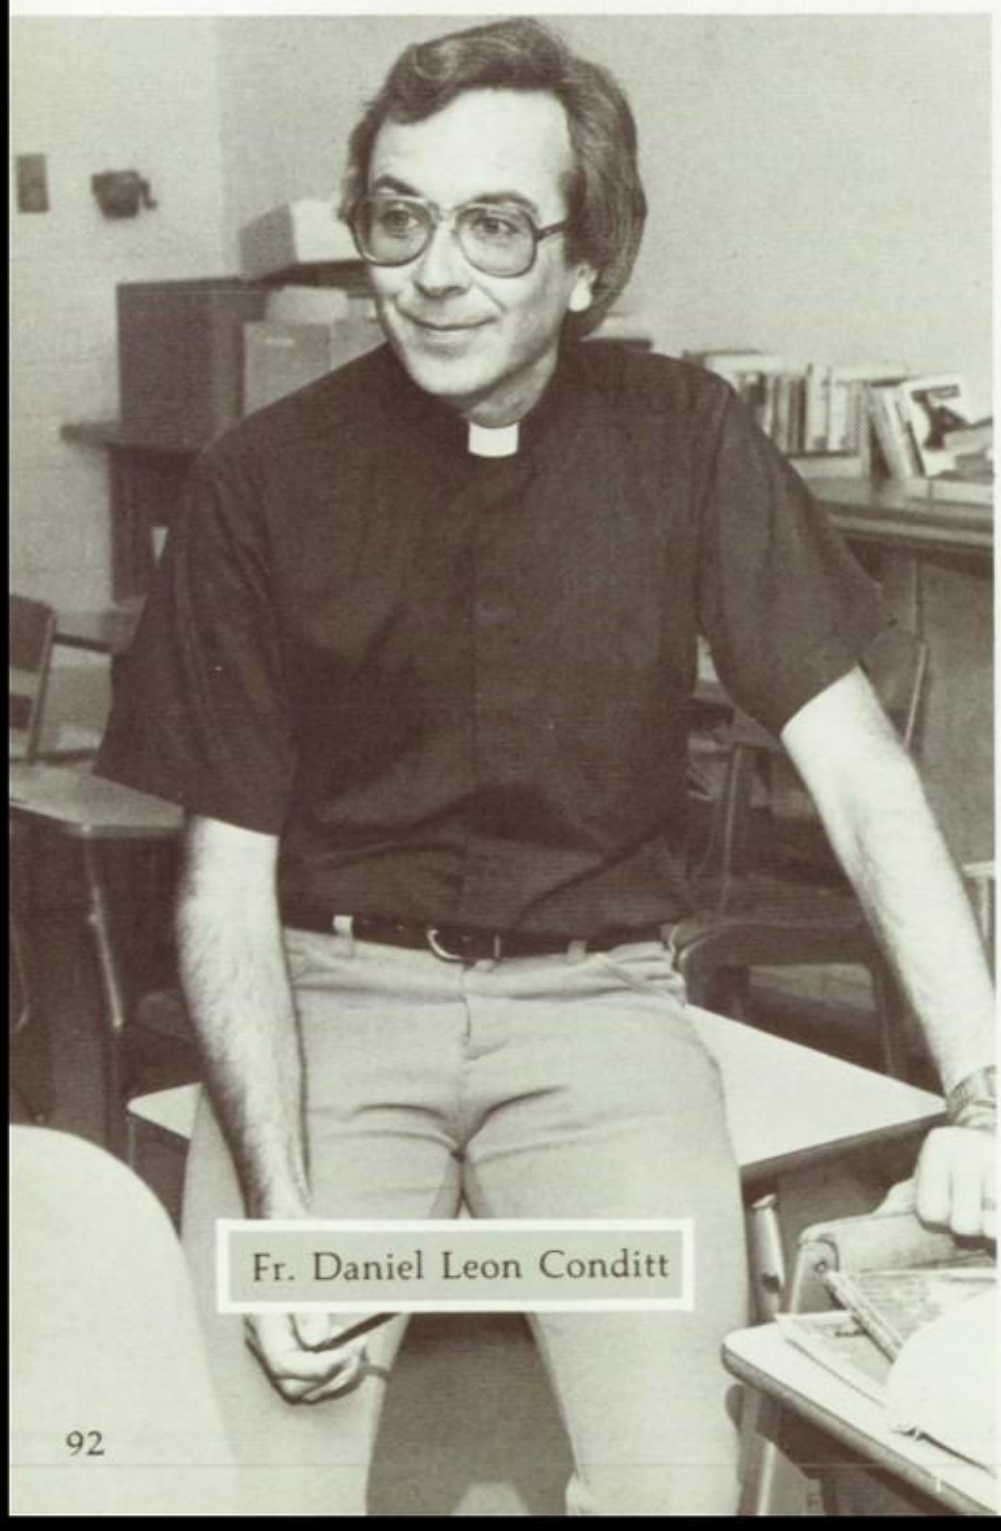
Mrs. Marilyn Ann Moore has been teaching here for seven years. She likes sewing, swimming, reading and her favorite food is anything chocolate. One thing that makes her happy is being with her family. She feels, in general, that our Government is pretty good.

Mr. Robert J. Vales has taught here for fifteen years. He teaches U.S. History, Free Enterprise, U.S. Government, and Arizona History. His most enjoyable times are fishing, painting houses, and golf. His favorite place is his home and things that he dislikes are apathy, laziness and people who are late and absent.

Mr. Thomas H. Campbell has taught here for eighteen years. He teaches Drafting and History. His favorite person is his wife Kate. One thing that makes him happy is quiet study halls. Mr. Campbell believes, "Our government is the best, it's the politicians that mess it up."

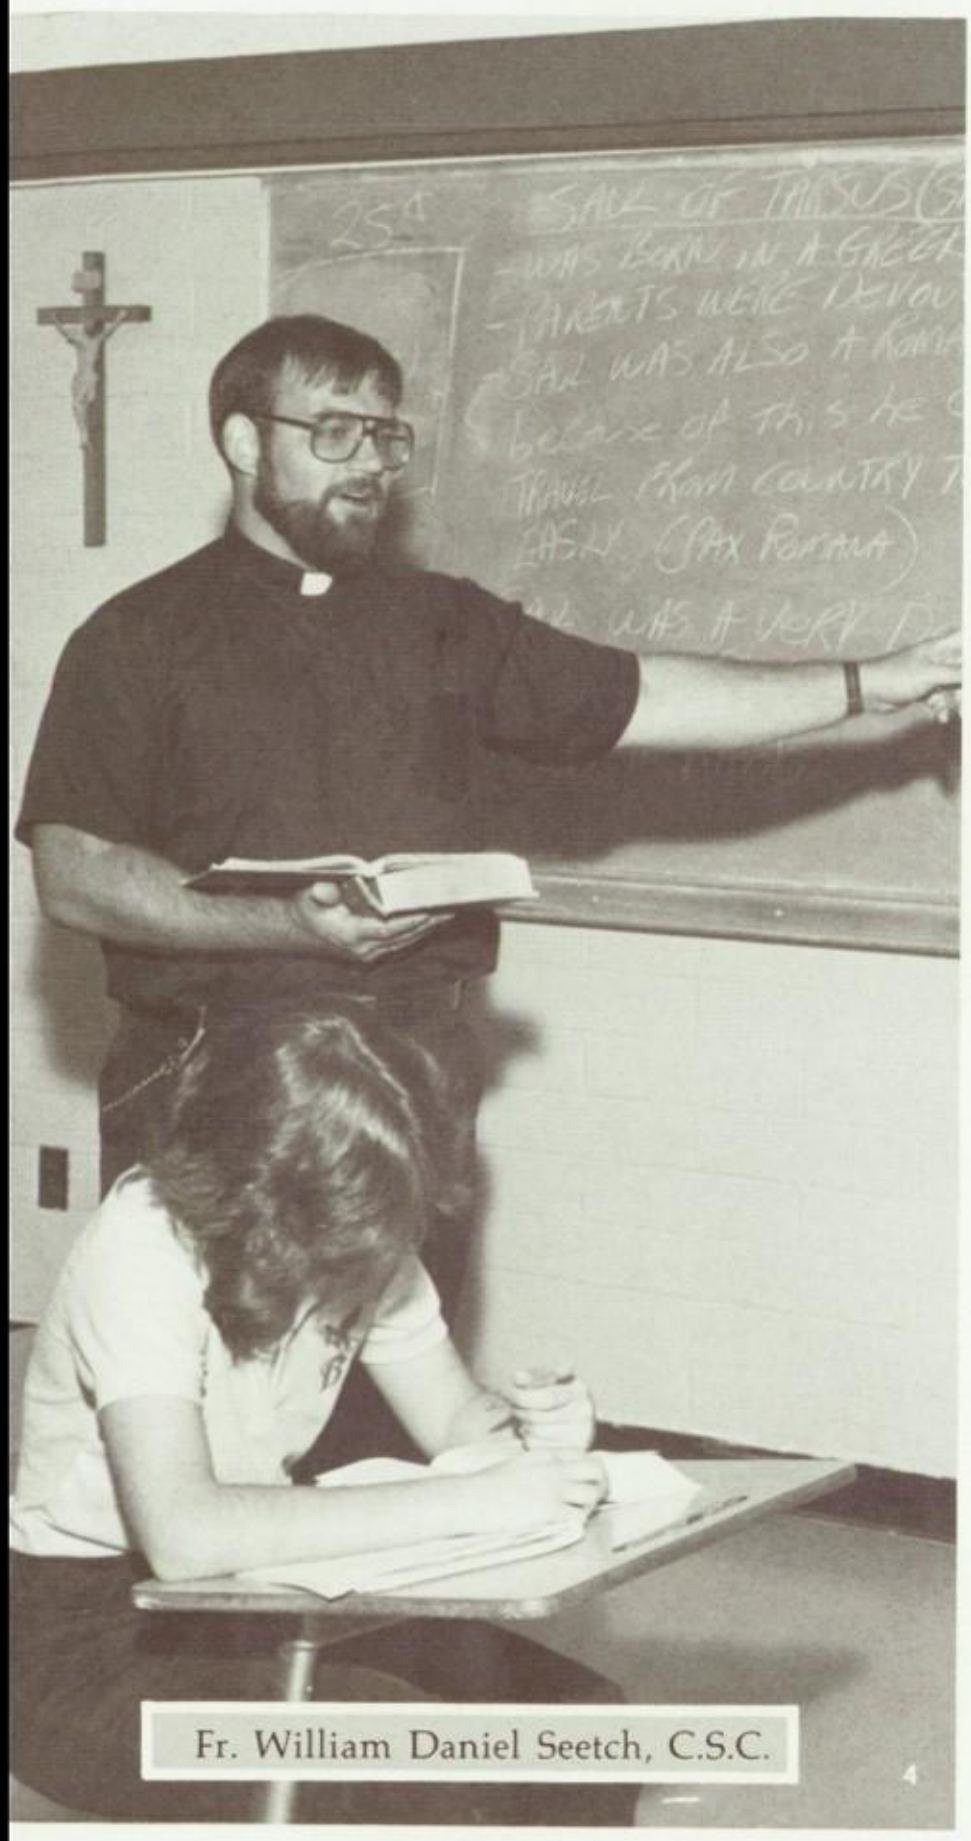


Fr. T. Timothy Tepsic



Fr. Daniel Leon Conditt

Mrs. Lynn Mascarelli



Fr. William Daniel Seetch, C.S.C.

Religion teachers pursue diverse leisure activities

Fr. Daniel Leon Conditt has been here for two years. He teaches junior religion and is the Director of Campus Ministry. Fr. Dan likes to take quiet walks alone on the beach or in the woods. His favorite collection item is hats. Fr. Dan likes all kinds of foods, except onions and celery. Fr. Dan likes to be hugged and loved. He also thinks President Reagan is trying very hard.

Fr. T. Timothy Tepsic has taught here for twelve years. He teaches four classes of sophomore religion and one class of freshman religion. Fr. Tepsic likes working in the garden and he also likes to read. His favorite types of food are Greek and Italian. Things that make him happy are being with friends and being friendly.

Mrs. Lynn Mascarelli has taught here for five years. She teaches senior religion, Basic Art 1-2, and Sculpture Ceramics 3-4. Mrs. Mascarelli has one son, Christopher, who is ten. She likes gardening, illustrating, and walking alone. It makes her happy when she can enjoy good music and being around her close friends.

Fr. William Daniel Seetch, C.S.C. is one of our new teachers this year. He teaches freshman religion and coaches J.V. football. For enjoyment, he likes to go on canoe trips in the lake regions of Canada, and he also collects paintings. His favorite place is an island in a large lake, deep in the forest of Ontario that can only be reached by canoe. Things that make Fr. Seetch happy are fishing and horseback riding.

Teachers' personal interests differ

Mrs. Tamara Weninger has taught at Bourgade for fifteen years. She is currently our librarian. Her pastimes are reading, swimming, and watching T.V. Her favorite color is blue and her favorite song is "The Impossible Dream." Mrs. Weninger dislikes people with a lack of respect. She would also like to see more consistency in good things the school does.

Mr. Jann Michael Contento is one of our second year teachers at Bourgade. He teaches Typing 1-2 and Accounting 1-2. His preferred pastimes are exercising, communications with people, reading and enjoying sports events. His favorite color is red and his favorite food is peanut butter and oatmeal. His favorite song is "Hard to Say I'm Sorry." Mr. Contento feels that "despite our government's many problems, our democratic system of government is the finest in the world."

Mrs. Dolores Marie Meier teaches food and nutrition, clothing and textiles, consumer education, and introduction to business. She has been teaching here for twelve years. She likes peace, quiet, sunshine and industrious students. She feels our government "could stand some improvement, but it is still the best in the world today."

Sister Kathleen Marie Janiak is a new teacher here this year. She teaches girls P.E. and Introduction to Algebra. She likes baking, sewing and reading. She also likes to collect boxes. Her favorite foods are strawberries, apple pie, and turkey. Things that make her happy are visiting with friends and completing a project.

Mr. Jim Davis has been here at Bourgade for two years. He teaches biology, Freshman P.E., recreational P.E. and athletic conditioning. Mr. Davis is married and has a son Justin Craig, 20 months old. His favorite food is prime rib and he likes to go to San Diego. His favorite person is his son Justin. One thing that makes Mr. Davis happy is a winning football team.

We are proud to be . . .

"We are Proud to Be . . . the Class of '83." This is the familiar cry that was heard throughout the year as the Senior Class expressed their spirit for their class and their school. During the course of the year, the logo "83" was seen on the windows of Madonna Hall, on all classroom wings, and identified senior lockers. Many faculty members have commented that this is the "The Most-Spirited Class" they have seen in a long time. Four years ago a group of funny freshmen were running around trying to learn cheers and think of new chants. Now in 1983, this same group, with a few added faces, has developed a special pride and set an example of spirit to be followed by all.

1) Seniors, David Olson, Dan Raths, Claudia Schreiner, Joanne Reed, Kristina Rathke. Pat Locher, and Marie Dickmann, attempt to wake up the bleacher bums by giving the football team some encouragement as they fall behind.

Seniors experience first retreat

This year's Senior retreat was a special event in most of the Seniors' lives because it was their first retreat as a unified class. The retreat was held at Camp Tepyac in the green forests of Prescott. There were many discussions; some included relationships, sex, and forgiveness. The most memorable part of the retreat was when they received the personal letters from their parents that touched many.

1) In a game of communication, the seniors started and renewed relationships with each other.

"And on the 8th day God created the Red Sox."

John V. Hickey

"Joey, Luther, Dave, let's do some foot glings' you scurvy dogs."

Mark Hoffmann

"Cherish yesterday, dream of tomorrow, and live for today."

The traditional Freshman-Senior Picnic was one of the special events which took place during the beginning of the school year. There were skits put on by the seniors. The food consisted of hamburgers, which were cooked by Marty Brown. There also were chips, cookies, and other snacks brought by freshmen and seniors. During the picnic, a few seniors got overwhelmed in the fun and threw others into the lagoon.

Main thrust toward Prom

The activities of the Junior Class were limited but successful. In the fall they had a retreat which greatly contributed to their unity. They also created an award-winning float for Homecoming. Following the decision to cancel the traditional Fashion Show, the Juniors concentrated their energies on organizing an outstanding Prom.

Sophs exhibit Eagle spirit

The class of 1985 boosted school spirit by responding enthusiastically to the Walk-a-thon. Sophomores dressed up as hikers during pre-Walk-a-thon activities and obtained over $3200 in sponsor money. For homecoming they entered a hayride float, and at halftime, sophomores Mick Hardin and Mary McAdams helped present flowers and badges to the Queen Candidates.

Prom servers continue tradition

Since 1967 several sophomores have been chosen each year to help the juniors at the annual Junior-Senior Prom. In March, interested sophomores submitted their names as candidates. The Prom Server Committee, headed by Sister Norma Jean Turner, carefully selected the servers based on their participation in school activities, attitude, and whether or not they were on probation. The 1983 Prom Servers: Pam Miller, Lisa Schambs, Dawn Taylor, Angie Cavallo, Stacey Joyce, Wayne Tallman, John Dickman, Paul Woods, Ed Georgevich, and Chris Garretson.

Sophomores excel in sports, academics

Throughout the year many sophomores were recognized for their excellence in academics and sports. In a house design contest sponsored by the American Institute of Architects, Ken Britt won first place and Jason Little took third. Overall, more than 50 awards were presented to sophomores at the Awards Assembly. In sports, several sophomores received their varsity letters this year: Matt Hick, Jeff Sarna, Tyler Leavitt, Stephanie Jagger, Jennifer Johnson, Kim Rabe, Stephanie Jauregui, Susan Lindell, and Theresa Villa.

Freshmen are welcomed by seniors

The freshman found out that their first year in high school can be very difficult. They had to learn a little about their school, but more important, some of them had to make new friends.

The Freshman-Senior picnic was one way to give the freshmen a chance to become acquainted with some of the seniors. This annual event took place in the early part of the year at Encanto Park. Hamburgers were for lunch, along with potato chips and other types of food. The freshmen were later entertained with skits presented by the senior class. Overall it was an enjoyable day, although a couple of people were thrown into the lagoon by a few seniors.

Freshman Breakfast proves successful

On August 18, the freshmen and their parents, along with the administration, went through Freshmen Orientation. It was intended to give the freshmen a basic run-down of the school. The administration covered areas such as the following: discipline, dress code, regulations, graduation requirements, and the daily schedule. Also covered, was a summary of each course offered for the freshman year. By the end of the day, everyone had a good idea of what the school expected from each student.

The annual Freshman Mass and Breakfast gave a chance for the new parents to meet one another. Early that morning, on September 19, a mass was held in the gym, followed by a breakfast in Madonna Hall. It was very well attended, with the majority of the freshman families present. Several parents said this freshman breakfast was one of the best that Bourgade has given in recent years. The food consisted of melons, pastries, and doughnuts, with coffee, milk, and juice to drink.

Freshmen excel in activities

Throughout the year, the freshman class has shown that their talents lie in many areas. They have shown that they support the school from their participation in the Walk-a-thon.

In the Drama Department, one student in particular was awarded for his outstanding achievement. Albert Temme demonstrated his versatility by performing three roles in Camelot.

In the Athletic Department, several freshmen were presented with varsity letters for their participation in sports. Phillippe Sampaio received one for basketball, while letters in tennis were given to Corrine Rabe, Valerie Reynolds, and Anthony Shepherd. The following members of the softball team also received letters: Colleen Dorsey, Stephanie Estfan, Amy Kline, and Margaret Medina.

Freshmen display support and enthusiasm

Bourgade's first Walk-a-thon was a very successful fund raiser. The freshman class brought in more money than any other class. The student that led the school in pledges was Kevin Kloft, who was awarded for his efforts at Awards Night.

Their spirit was not just limited to the Walk-a-thon. They supported the school in all aspects throughout the year.

Freshmen undergo changes

Significant changes have taken place in the freshman class. One of the major changes occurred in the sports program. All freshman sports were dropped because of a lack of funding. Consequently, if a freshman wanted to play a sport, they had to tryout for the J.V. teams. The one advantage to this change was that by having freshmen on the J.V. teams, they could combine their talent and increase the possibility of having a better team.

Academically, there were minor changes made in the class selections. Both the Math and History departments made alterations in the amount of required courses needed to graduate. An extra year of math was added to the schedule, affecting only the class of 1985 and those following. World History, previously an elective, was changed to a required course during the freshman year.

This year the faculty and staff of Bourgade decided that a total self-evaluation was quite necessary. The overall evaluation consisted of philosophies, goals and objectives, development, church's educational mission, review and update, future plans, student committee reports, and community committee reports.

The Western Association of Schools and Colleges, or WASC, is a new approach of evaluation being presently used by many schools. Those involved as members of the WASC team include the following: Dr. Voi Coy of Washington High School; Ms. Virginia Dertina of Gerard; Sr. Katrine Johnston BVM of Xavier; Mr. Michael Klein of Brophy; Mr. Thomas Mamara of Seton; Sr. Cecilia Louise Moore CSJ from the Western Christian Education Association of Los Angeles; and Ms. Rita Simons of Gerard.

Results from the accreditation included strengths, areas for improvement, and plans for the future of Bourgade. One strength mentioned is the Christian principles and religious attitudes in a school this size creates an atmosphere in which there is unity in the student body and a good rapport between the staff and students.

Some of our poor areas included a more solid financial basis to support programs, salaries, facilities, and a need to develop a public relations program which will more firmly establish a positive image of Bourgade. An outstanding plan for the future of Bourgade is by increasing enrollment, we will be able to expand the staff. This will allow us to spread the additional roles and duties over a larger number of people.

The Student Government-sponsored assembly featuring the musical song and dance routines of the Amigos was "the most exciting event that took place during the year," commented Father Fetters. This time the student body whole-heartedly agreed with him. Applauding each new number with ever-increasing enthusiasm, members of the audience could no longer contain themselves and finally joined the Amigos dancing in the aisles. Coach Jann Contento wondered, "what took them so long?" Bourgade's Kim Mar, a member of the Amigos group, was delighted that the troupe was finally able to schedule a performance here and that they were a smashing success.
